DORCHESTER GIRL A SUICIDE

ENDS HER LIFE ON THIRD TRY

Miss Dorothy Shepard Victim in Suicide Mystery; Belonged to Prominent Family in Dorchester

Miss Dorothy Shepard, a schoolgirl of eighteen, who had twice before attempted to take her own life, committed suicide at her home, No. 79 Bloomfield street, Dorchester, it became known today.

Neighbors declared that the girl had been melancholy for months. One girl friend said:

"Everyone knew about her melancholia. She was an accomplished musician, and she wanted to go on the stage or into moving pictures. Her parents objected."

Miss Shepard's father, Walter Shepard, was reported today to be seriously ill as a result of his worry over the girl's persistent attempts to take her own life.

Medical Examiner Timothy Leary declined to tell how the girl finally succeeded in killing herself. At first he refused to reveal her name. He said:

"I wouldn't think of telling her name. It is a very unfortunate case. Her father in very sick. I will admit that a girl committed suicide, and that is all."

Later, when told that the girl suicide's name had become known, he said:

"It is a pathetic case. Her father is in a deplorable condition."

Plans today were for the girl's funeral from her home, No. 79 Bloomfield street, Thursday.

The facts as to the girl's death were reported to the District Attorney.

Miss Shepard attempted suicide on September 11. Her grandmother, Mrs. Adeline Faught, with whom she was living at No. 79 Bloomfield street, Dorchester, wondered why the girl was staying so long in the bathroom, and finally tried the door.

She could not open the door; so she called the police. They broke their way in and found the girl lying in a bathtub half full of water, a rubber tube connected with a gas jet and hanging over the edge of the tub.

The police later said that the girl had also swallowed two ounces of chloral hydrate. The window of the bathroom was closed, they said, and the gas turned on.

Miss Shepard was sent to the hospital, but at 9 that night, at her own

3 PERISH IN FIRE AT ANDOVER, CT.

Andover, Ct., Oct. 17.—The charred bodies of three men were found today in the ruins of the Andover Hotel, which was burned late last night, and the discovery is believed to account for the origin of the fire which was a mystery.

The men burned to death were identified by charred remains of their clothing and belongings as Wallace Coady, fifty-five, of Andover; Frederick Ducharme, thirty-seven, a paper-maker, and James Upton, thirty-five, of Manchester.

Neighbors say the three men had been hanging about the hotel barn, adjoining the hostelry, drinking, and it is supposed were asleep in the barn.

"Tin Sickness" New Disease Epidemic in Germany

London, Oct. 17.—"According to travellers from Germany," says the Exchange Telegraph's Amsterdam correspondent, "a remarkable disease is spreading in many parts of Germany, especially in Berlin, Hamburg, Munich and Cologne, caused by continual eating of preserved foods. The disease is described as 'tin sickness.' It is considered a serious form of blood poisoning.

"Thousands of cases are reported in every large city."

HOLD CAMBRIDGE BOYS IN AUTO THEFT

Charged with the theft of an automobile belonging to John E. Rousmaniere of New York, four Cambridge boys were today brought back from Richmond, Va., where they were arrested, and arraigned in the Roxbury Court. They pleaded "not guilty" and were ordered held in $1,500 bail each, until October 26. They are John J. Sullivan, eighteen, of Marney street; Lawrence J. Keating of Warren street, Charles W. Boyle of Walton street and Stephen Dooling of Jefferson street. All gave bonds except Keating.

According to the police, the boys took Rousmaniere's automobile from in front of No. 518 Beacon street, Back Bay, on October 10, driving it through to Richmond, where it was recovered and their arrests effected. The machine, valued at $2,100, is now on its way back to Boston. The boys said they were going to Jacksonville, Fla.

TELLS OF ARREST IN FIREBUG CASE

Andrew F. O'Brien was the witness today in the trial of Israel Grossman on a charge of firing his stable on Ilus Hill avenue to defraud an insurance company. He told the story of Grossman's arrest.

"I was put in the stable with another keeper," said O'Brien, "and I told Grossman unless he paid what he owed on the mortgage his horses would be taken next morning. He said he would never take the horses out the stable.

"We lit a fire in the stove in the harness room, and used matches in lighting the lanterns, but the matches were put out.

"Grossman came in in the morning and objected to our having lighted the fire.

"He went down into the stable, then came up and went out. I heard a crackling, and went down and found a fire in one of the stalls.

"I ran out and saw Grossman running, and I caught him and took him to the police station, and then notified the firemen."

BATTERY A BACK IN BOSTON

Thousands Cheer Artillerymen as They Return From Border and March Through City's Streets

Battery A came home today. After detraining in the Huntington avenue yards the soldiers paraded through the downtown streets while thousands cheered them.

It was Boston's first chance to see a detachment of her boys home from the border, and Boston snatched at the opportunity. The streets along the parade route were lined, and the rippling cheers flashed along the lines as the sun flashes along a sword blade.

The battery was reviewed at the State House by Secretary of State A. P. Langtry, State Treasurer Burrill and Councillors Henry C. Mulligan, T. J. Buckley, R. F. Andrews and E. F. Waegatt.

IN BETTER CONDITION.

Battery A is made up of Boston's "gilded youth," headed by such gold-plated youngsters as Douglas Lawson, T. Jefferson Coolidge, Charles Choate and Dono Minot. They came back from the border today with their cheeks bronzed from the hot Texas sun and a new vigor in their carriage as they rode over the cobbles.

When the long troop train pulled into the Huntington avenue yards today wives and mothers and sisters and sweethearts were waiting with welcomes, and as the train halted the fashionably-dressed women made a rush for the forward cars, where heads were popping from the windows.

During the few minutes before the orders to detrain were given there was a frantic exchange of happy greetings from those on the ground to those in the cars. More than one young artilleryman leaned perilously from the window for the first kiss from wife or mother or sweetheart.

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY BARRED

Judge De Courcy of the Supreme Court issued a temporary injunction today, restraining the Columbian Fire Insurance Company from further conducting business, on the ground that the company was insolvent. The injunction was issued on motion of Attorney General Attwill. It also was requested by State Fire Commissioner Frank H. Hardison.

The order of the notice is returnable next Tuesday, when application will be made for a permanent injunction and the appointment of a receiver. The company has paid since May 1, $58,107.76 in premiums.

BRITISH EXTEND GAINS ON SOMME

By International News Service.

London, Oct. 17.—British attacks in front of Bapaume on the Somme front have been extended farther north. The War Office announced today that German trenches west of Serre had been entered during the night. (Serre is seven miles due west of Bapaume.)

INQUIRY IN MILK WAR

Small Dealers Change Persecution on Part of Inspection Department to Drive Them Out

Investigation of charges that the milk inspection department of the city of Boston is persecuting small milk dealers while big milk dealers enjoy immunity from inspection, was begun today by the State department of health.

The investigation which opened today revealed that a series of astounding charges had been made against the milk inspection department of the Board of Health and against some of the largest Boston dealers. These charges include:

1—That dealers are selling milk manufactured from powder as fresh milk.

2—That city inspectors are piling up convictions and prosecutions against small dealers so that they can be "frozen out" in favor of the big dealers.

The investigation by the State board has grown out of the revocation by Prof. James O. Jordan, of the city milk inspection department of the license to sell milk in Boston of W. A. Graustein, who operates the Farmers' Milk Company at No. 11 Gore street.

Graustein appealed this decision to the State Health Department, his last court of appeal against being thus put out of business.

A hearing on this appeal was held today before the State Health Department's council, Professor Whipple presiding.

Among charges made by Graustein at the hearing was that in August 587 samples of milk were taken from the wagons, while only eleven samples were taken from wagons of the Whiting Company and six from the wagons of the H. P. Hood & Sons Company.

Assistant Attorney-General Arthur E. Sengreve conducted the examination of witnesses at the hearing in the interest of the State board, and his presence was said to indicate that the Attorney-General's office would take drastic action if the charges made are brought out by the evidence.

Several clashes occurred during the hearing between Professor Jordan of the Milk Inspection Department and Sengreve. Jordan was requested to place before the board at the next meeting all reports and cards on samples of milk taken from analysis from dealers during August, in an effort to learn if discrimination is being shown by the department.

WOULD ESTABLISH REPUBLIC IN GREECE

By International News Service.

London, Oct. 17.—Following the formal recognition of the provisional government in Greece by the allies, the Daily Mail suggested today that the Greek kingdom be transformed into a republic. This paper says that General Sarrail, commander-in-chief of the allies' forces in Greece, has been in close touch with the leaders of the movement to depose the present monarch, and it is suggested that, if King Constantine refuses to abdicate, the allies should refuse to recognize the succession of any member of the royal family and should support the revolutionary movement.

Said She'd Elope and Elope She Did

Miss Grace K. Kiernan, secretary to Superintendent of Schools Frank E. Parlin of Chelsea, didn't show up at her desk this morning.

Mr. Parlin found a note informing him that his secretary wouldn't be back, as she had been married. The letter was mailed at Brooklyn, N. Y. George Ogle of Louisville, Ky., who is employed by the Edison Company in Brooklyn, is the man who induced Miss Kiernan to give up her secretarial duties.

In eloping, Miss Kiernan lived up to her promise. She often told the other girls in City Hall that if she ever got married, she would surprise them.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Kiernan, who now live in Wakefield on a farm. Shortly after they moved there, she has made her home with a sister, Mrs. Arlene Griffin of Chelsea.

LIONEL HARVARD WOUNDED IN WAR

Lionel de Jersey Harvard, collateral descendant of John Harvard and a graduate of the university which bears his name, has been wounded while fighting in the English ranks. He was shot through the chest on September 25, and is now reported to be out of danger in a hospital on the Isle of Wight.

After graduating from Harvard in 1915, Harvard returned to London and joined an officers' training corps. Five months later he was gazetted as second lieutenant in the first battalion of the Grenadier Guards.

BELGIAN DOCTOR APPEALS TO U. S.

By International News Service.

London, Oct. 17.—A dispatch from Rotterdam says that a court-martial will be held at Brussels for the trial of fourteen persons accused of conspiracy by the German authorities. One of the prisoners, Dr. Bulls, has enlisted the aid of the United States Minister, Brand Whitlock. Dr. Bulls was formerly dentist to the Belgian royal family. He is charged with having supplied funds to Miss Edith Cavell, the British Red Cross nurse, who was executed by the Germans.

HUNT FOR MISSING BROCKTON WOMAN

Brockton, Oct. 17.—The police of Brockton and surrounding towns are searching for Mrs. Lizzie Peter, twenty-seven, wife of Robin Peter of No. 111 Main street, who has been missing since last Tuesday. Her sister, Mrs. Abdu Peter, fears that the middle-aged woman may have been killed and that her body is concealed somewhere between Brockton and Bridgewater.

PARALYSIS FATAL TO TWO

Malady Gains, Although Decline Was Expected When Colder Weather Came; Records Broken

Forty-six cases of infantile paralysis for the twenty-four hour period ending at 9 o'clock today were reported by the State Department of Health, breaking all records since the epidemic began.

There are also two deaths, one in Quincy and another in Belchertown.

The dead are:

——— Sulvanecki, No. 1 Conant street, Quincy, and Hazel Rhodes, eight, of Belchertown.

Henry Miller, sixty-two, of No. 11 Lincoln avenue, Saugus, who was taken to the Malden Hospital Saturday, was pronounced suffering from infantile paralysis by Dr. Arthur Brown of the State Board of Health today.

Dr. William H. Brown, State epidemiologist of the Department of Health said today that the disease was breaking all precedents.

"We thought that with the coming of cooler weather there would be a marked falling off in the number of cases," he said. "There is absolutely no way to account for the disease breaking all previous records today. It is simply breaking all the rules."

Gilmichael's second case developed today when Clifford Lurry, six years old, of No. 6 Trask street, was declared a victim of the disease. Both boys are paralyzed. Clifford was taken ill on Saturday.

Mount Vernon School, attended by Clifford, was closed two weeks ago. The other case in Gloucester developed many weeks ago and the child is recovering. The homes of the two children are miles apart.

Nine of the new cases reported are in Boston. Cambridge has five, and there are two each in Quincy, Spring field and Dalton, and three in Lynn.

The highest previous day's total was thirty-nine cases. Already there have been 441 cases reported in Octo-

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—Surgeon-General Carleton Jones, who has been director-general of the Canadian Medical Service in England, has been recalled and Colonel Bruce has been appointed to his stead.

A medical board recently made an investigation into the Canadian Medical Service in Great Britain and at the front and reported that it was badly in need of a complete reorganization. Surgeon-General Jones upon his return here will be required to give explanations.

TEUTONS LAUNCH NEW DRIVE IN RUMANIA

London, Oct. 17.—With the defeated Rumanian armies struggling desperately to stem the onrush of the Germans and Austro-Hungarians into their country, the central powers have launched a new great offensive far to the northwest, designed to lighten the pressure of the Russian armies along their eastern front.

The first blow of the offensive has been struck south of Dorna Watra, in the eastern Carpathians, not far from the triangular point where Rumania, Bukowina and Transylvania join.

Official announcements from Petrograd state that the Austro-Germans are "employing great forces" in the movement, which apparently aims at outflanking the Russians.

The first honors of the battle are with the Teutons. An official Berlin statement announces that the Russians have been driven across the valley of the Negru river.

FIGHTING IS FIERCE.

Aside from the new movement the battles in Volhynia and Galicia and von Falkenhayn's drive against the Rumanians on the Transylvania line continue to be marked by the fiercest fighting.

The former chief of the German general staff is smashing without intermission at the Rumanian armies and at one point has crossed the frontier. He has crossed the mountain barrier and has opened the vast Rumanian plain as a field of operations. The Austro-Germans are now battling less than eighty miles in an air-line from Bucharest.

Heartened by reinforcements hurriedly rushed to the front to stop the retreat of their comrades whose morale was shattered by their Kronstadt and Hermannstadt experience, the Rumanians are making a gallant battle in the mountains.

Their most determined stand is being taken at the most vital point of their front, where seven miles beyond their own frontier they are battling desperately to hold up von Falkenhayn's advance beyond Honaru.

OPEN WAY TO BUCHAREST.

Honaru is in the southern slopes of the Transylvanian Alps. Beyond it is a rolling country, which, stretching down to Campolung, ten miles to the southwest, affords the last natural barrier to the Teuton advance.

From Campolung the vast Rumanian plain stretches flatly down to Bucharest about seventy miles away.

Official announcement from Bucharest are to the effect that the Rumanian line is holding firmly and that at one place the Austro-Germans have been driven back across the Transylvanian border.

Rumors of a sensational development in the Dobrudja have reached here in unofficial dispatches from Petrograd. The reports are to the effect that Field Marshal von Mackensen, commander of the German-Bulgarian-Turkish army holding the Dobrudja line, has retreated in front of which Cobadin is the base. This would mean that the invaders have fallen back almost fifty miles.

Allies Plan to Dethrone Greek King

London, Oct. 17.—The Entente Allies have officially recognized the revolutionary government in Greece while withholding recognition from the new cabinet formed by M. Lambros and the machinations of King Constantine.

This means that the allies have decided to overthrow the government of Greece in the event that they win the war. It is their answer to the continued refusal of King Constantine to enter the war on behalf of the Entente.

The government recognized is that headed by former Premier Venizelos, the "strong man" of the allies in Greece. It has its seat at Canea, Crete.

The Entente consuls at Canea have been directed to extend the recognition decided upon by the foreign offices of the allies. Venizelos is expected to immediately throw the army he has gathered about him in with the allied forces in Macedonia. Some days ago it was announced that these troops, volunteers, were being drilled prior to being sent to the front to join the fighting Serbians, Russians and Serbians.

If the allies merge victorious from the war the king's abdication will be replaced as head of the Greek government.

The action followed closely semi-official announcement that the Lambros cabinet would follow closely on the heels of its predecessor in the matter of war policy. The predecessor, the Kalogeropoulos cabinet, was against the immediate entrance of Greece into the war.

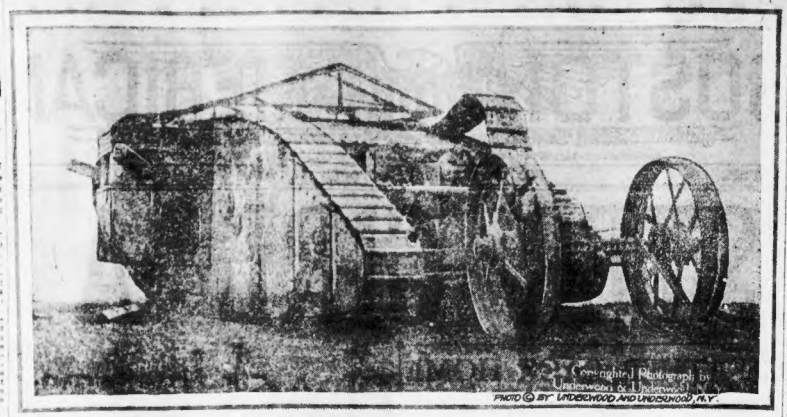
Bulgars Repulsed in Attacks on Serbs

Paris, Oct. 17.—Bulgarian troops holding the road to the Macedonian city of Monastir have been making strong attacks against the Serbian positions in the past twenty-four hours, it is reported in an official statement on Balkan operations issued by the War Office today.

In spite of the vigor of the assaults all were repulsed. The fighting was severe along the Tcherna River.

Artillery duels were reported from that sector of the Balkan front held by the French.

BRITAIN'S WAR MONSTER—ARMORED "TANK"



First photograph of fighting machine which, the British report, caused terror in the German trenches on the western front.

The first official photograph of the British "tank," or armored motor car, which made its first appearance on the Somme front recently, and of which there are said to be a hundred models on the front, reached this country today.

Simultaneously came the interesting announcement that one of these "tanks" will be shown at the Allied Bazaar, to be held in Mechanics' Building in December.

Until the "tank" comes "in the flesh," however, its picture is of supreme interest, and worth study.

The first photograph to reach this country is somewhat dim. It is evidently an enlargement of a small print, and was made on a cloudy day. Furthermore, it was taken from the rear of the "tank," so that the frontal aspect of these engines of warfare can only be guessed at.

The more interesting points made clear by the photograph are these:

TANK'S MOTIVE POWER.

1—The tank travels on two endless belts, one at either side. These belts are carried upon cogged wheels at front and rear, which communicate the motor power from the engines within the machine. The perforations in the belt where these cogs engage can be seen in the photograph. The endless belt is carried around and over the top of the "tank" on rollers; while beneath the "tank" it is also in contact with massive rollers which support the "tanks'" weight.

2—The "tank" is sheathed with steel plates, but the rear is vulnerable, because the two rudder wheels are exposed there.

3—The "tank's" guns are in two barbettes at either side of the structure, and probably also on the front. They can fire upward, to either side or back. Each gun is protected by a steel sheathing where it protrudes from the barbette.

4—Because of the great weight of the tank and the fact that it rests flat upon the ground, braces to support its weight are adjusted on the upper part of it; and these brace particularly support the weight of the gun barbettes on either side.

5—Entrance into the tank is effected through a small door in the rear angle of the side barbettes.

EASY TO CROSS DITCHES.

6—The tank's ability to cross ditches is a result of its structure. On level ground the forward part of the tank is clear of the earth, slanting upward at an angle to a height of perhaps eight feet, and the forward end of the tank is probably eight or ten feet ahead of the point where the tank's body first rests upon the ground. Thus if the tank dips into a trench, this protruding "nose" will catch the further side of the trench and enable it to climb across and out.

7—So far as can be judged from the photograph, the tank appears to be about forty feet long and about twelve feet wide. It is steered by two rear wheels; but if these are smashed it can be steered by altering the speed of the belt on one side or the other.

The particular tank pictured has seen fighting. In the original photograph numerous scars and small holes appear in its sides, while even in the enlargement the fact that the belt on the further side has been broken is apparent.

RUNAWAY TANK SACRIFICED WITH MEN

New York, Oct. 17.—The first British "tank" that appeared on the Somme front got out of the control of its driver and was destroyed, with its crew, by the British artillery, according to Lieutenant Stephane Lauzanne, former editor of the Paris Matin, who arrived on the French liner Lafayette. The tank was destroyed, M. Lauzanne said, to prevent it from falling into the hands of the Germans.

"The men apparently lost control of it," he said, "and were steering straight for the German lines. To prevent the new war engine from falling into the hands of the enemy it was shelled to pieces by the British gunners with their own countrymen inside of it."

"There was no help for it, as the men could not be got out of the machine, and therefore they had to perish with it. The cost was about $15,000 for each of the machines.

"The sight of the tank coming toward them inspired terror in the minds of the Germans, who thought it was some giant animal brought from India, and they did not know what to do," he said. "When the British artillery destroyed the machine it caused more wonder among the enemy and their officers, according to prisoners captured later, could not make it out at al and were very much worried.

"I heard there are about 100 tanks now on the Somme front. They are not much bigger than the armored motored cars, but very much more powerful in construction. Their caterpillar wheels are hidden underneath so that they cannot be shot away. Each tank carries two machine guns and one Lewis gun. The crew of five men inside cannot be hurt with machine gun fire, as it will not penetrate the armor.

"The tanks have a speed of six miles an hour. They are very useful in trench fighting, as they can go right down into the trenches and fire into the Germans without receiving any injury in return."

GERMANS DEMAND NEW U-BOAT WAR

Berlin, Oct. 17.—At a largely attended meeting of the "Independent Committee for German Peace," one of the organizations conducting an agitation for a ruthless submarine war, it was insisted that an unrestricted submarine war must and should begin immediately.

PLOTTER AGAINST ARCHDUKE DEAD

Berlin, Oct. 17.—Nadjo Kerovic, one of the conspirators in the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austrian throne, in 1914, has died in a military prison, says a report from Sarajevo, Bosnia.

NEW GAINS FOR FRENCH ON SOMME

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI.

Paris, Oct. 17.—Beating off violent German counter-attacks, the French have made fresh progress in Somme front.

The War Office communique today stated that the French troops that penetrated Sailly Saillisel northeast of Combles advanced along the Bapaume road during the night.

However, the French met with desperate resistance. Powerful counter-attacks were made by the Germans in an attempt to drive the French from Sailly Saillisel, but all failed.

Ninety prisoners were taken by the French.

The outstanding feature of the battle was the introduction by the Germans of vertical barrier fire. Low lying clouds forced the French aviators to fly at a height of 900 feet, in order to regulate the artillery fire.

The Teutons replied to this daring move by raising a shell curtain of the same altitude, but the aviators hovered on the fringe of the flaming wall, occasionally swooping down and turning their machine guns on the Teuton infantry.

In this way the airmen inflicted heavy losses on the reserves coming up to the support of the German line at three different points. The Germans employed part of the Twelfth Division, the 183d Division, and half of the Forty-fourth Division, the latter half of which was smashed a week ago.

ALLIES' AVIATORS HUNT FOR U-BOATS

New York, Oct. 17.—Torpedo boat destroyers and war aeroplanes are reported unusually active from various points along the south shore of Long Island. These reports indicate that the British and French cruisers patrolling the coast are continually releasing airships for scouting purposes and that not only the swift boats of the British and French, but the fastest craft in the United States Navy are moving in coast patrol because of the recent destructive visit of the German submarine U-53.

Residents of the South Shore, from Freeport east, are accustomed to the sight of aeroplanes from the Mineola Aviation School that they have come to pay no attention to an airship bound from the mainland out for a spin over the Atlantic. But they do pay attention now to airships that come in from the sea, hover over the coast as if to get bearings, and then put out to sea again.

These airships are smaller than the type used at Mineola. It is believed they are of the type carried aboard the British cruisers for scouting purposes.

WAR SUMMARY

In spite of the bitterest efforts on both sides the battle lines on the Somme front remained today practically unchanged.

The allies for a week have kept up a constant, battering attempt to break through or bend back the German lines, and the reports indicate that the fighting has been more desperate during the past week than at any time since the allied attacks began.

Nevertheless, the Germans appear to have gained new strength, either from reinforcements or from some advantage in position, and they have been able to hold, substantially without loss.

A movement by Teutonic troops which may prove important is reported from Berlin and Vienna today.

At the point where the Carpathians leave Galicia and become the boundary between Transylvania and Rumania, the Teutons drove back the Russians across a river valley there and established themselves in new positions on the eastern bank.

The effect was to bring up what might be called the "left wing" of the army attacking Rumania, and the Teuton armies were brought into a better position for any Russian offensive they may undertake.

It is interesting to consider the most the Teutons can hope to do by a Rumanian offensive. The River Pruth runs from the Black Sea to Czernowitz, almost in a straight line; and the Sereth runs a parallel course, a little to the west.

If the Teutons could crush Rumania and establish their frontier against Russia along either of these lines, they would have a much easier defensive task than at present.

Incidentally, a successful Teutonic offensive will undoubtedly all but annihilate the Rumanian army, for if there is a Teuton offensive, it will come simultaneously from the Dobrudja and from Kronstadt, toward Bucharest. Success, the junction of these two forces, would mean the cutting off of most of Rumania from all communication with the allies, and the sure destruction of the Rumanian forces thus cut off. From Kronstadt to the Danube on this line is about 125 miles.

Russian attacks were again thrown back yesterday with heavy losses by the Teutonic allies.

PARIS DROPS WINE FOR BEER AND CIDER

Washington, Oct. 17.—Cider and beer have taken the place of wine in many Parisian households, according to figures from American consuls, which show that during August 20,000,000 less quarts of wine were brought into Paris than in August, 1915. Approximately 6,000,000 more quarts of cider and beer were brought to the city.

The same dispatches report a meat shortage in Paris. The importation of frozen meat is being urged by consumers and others.

BRITISH CONTINUE TO HAMMER SOMME

By International News Service.

London, Oct. 17.—Violent fighting was in progress all night on the Somme front. West and south of Bapaume the British and French kept pounding the Germans in their encircling movement to "pocket" Bapaume. German counter attacks were followed by a tremendous bombardment of the new French position at Sailly Saillisel on the Bapaume-Peronne highway.

British troops are pushing on Le Barque along the Bapaume—Albert turnpike. They are meeting with strong resistance, however.

Only three miles separate the Britian from their prize—Bapaume, but the French are about five miles away.

BOSTON WOMEN WORK FOR BILLY SUNDAY

By MINNIE E. ELLAM.

The importance of the Boston wage-earning woman in the campaign of Billy Sunday is being recognized at the outset. Whether she is the maid who washes the dishes and attends to the wants of the family, or whether she is the high-salaried secretary of the college president, or the department store head, makes no difference. Each has a soul to save and through each woman other women may be reached.

Also it is true that men have been known to be reached through the influence of the women who have "hit the trail," and this is a fact that is also acknowledged by the workers who plan to begin the initial survey in Boston tomorrow.

For the purpose of getting in touch with every business woman, whether cash girl or social worker, a very efficient woman's committee, headed by Mrs. Grace Coleman Lathrop, has been organized. And the women are going about the business in a well-organized, businesslike manner. They plan to take a survey first, getting the women listed in Boston and in Greater Boston as well. In order to do this two women are to be sent out together to all places where women are employed.

Employers are warned in advance of the feminine invasion, which will take place any time between Wednesday and October 22, when the campaign closes.

ONLY THE FIRST STEP.

This is only the first step of the work, but the committee in charge is sub-divided into a central committee, of which Mrs. E. Tailmadge Root is the chairman, and an extension committee, of which Mrs. H. L. Zeliss is chairman. The central committees will work in a district within a ten-minute radius of Park Street Church, the extension committee will work outside in Greater Boston.

All reports on the survey are to be made directly to the women's committee and are to be mailed to that committee the night of October 23.

Then comes a follow-up campaign that is designed to give all wage-earning women a personal invitation to the tabernacle, where a reserved section will be held for them during the evening meetings. Invitations to the noon-day luncheon and Bible study at Park Street Church will follow. A luncheon served for five cents, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee, is supposed to remove any possible obstacle that the wage-earning woman might find in the way of attending these meetings.

Mrs. James E. Walker, wife of Dr. Walker, who is advance man for the campaign, emphasized today the tremendous importance of the campaign among the business women.

"Thousands of women become interested in the study of the Bible alone," she said, "and we get them from every rank and class. There are many Jewish girls who seem to find special pleasure in the study. One little girl in Kansas City, who had attended the meetings, and been an ardent student, expressed the spirit in which the meetings are taken when she said: 'I was born a Jewess and I shall go back to my Jewish religion. But I shall always be a better Jewess for having attended these meetings and taken up the Bible study.'

"All of the women do not 'hit the trail,' of course," Mrs. Walker continued, "but they cannot fail to be better women for the experience. Then, too, Boston is filled with thousands of women who are shut in and living in rooms and who have no religious training or belief. We want to reach these women, and it is for this that the woman's work is being done."

Mrs. Walker disclaims any credit for following the Sunday campaign, in this is the first time that she has been in it. "I am not at the head of any movement," she said, "although, of course, I could not fail to be interested in anything that Mr. Sunday does. But I am—all, I am just Dr. Walker's wife, as far as this goes, and I am here to make him comfortable and to keep the children in school." Mrs. Walker's appearance carried out her statement. She is a southern woman, whose interests appear to centre in and about her home.

Mrs. Lathrop, the general chairman of the woman's committee, is the one on whom the business of organization and work falls heaviest. Mrs. Lathrop has organized and laid out the work for each committee and is to see that it is accomplished.

Mrs. Everett O. Fisk, who is chairman of the committee on women students, has been absent, but her work has been carried on by Dr. Clara Gary. Dr. Gary plans to have a survey of all of the girls and women students enrolled in the various schools, conservatories and educational institutions in the city, carrying on the work on the same lines as the central committee among the business women.

Mrs. A. H. Nazarian has, perhaps, the hardest task cut out for her in the serving of the luncheons, which will be a feature on Wednesdays, Thursday and Fridays of each week, after the Sunday campaign begins. Mrs. Nazarian has been obliged to secure sixty women a day to prepare and serve the luncheons.

FIVE-CENT LUNCHEONS.

"We have put the price of five cents for the luncheon, in order to make it possible for every girl in the central district to attend. We know that in Boston there are many girls who carry their luncheons, but the five cents that the entire meal will cost them is only what they would pay for a cup of coffee or perhaps a glass of milk.

"The serving is to be done quickly in order that the girls may both eat and attend the Bible lesson in the three-quarters of an hour that is allowed them for luncheon. There will be three sandwiches—each of a substantial nature—a piece of cake and a cup of coffee for each girl.

"And the cake will be home-made—don't forget that. We have asked each woman to bring her cake—and do not expect to have to buy any at all. We can serve fifty or sixty at once and as soon as this is done, we will be ready for more. The committees are supplied by the churches cooperating with the campaign." Mrs. Nazarian has asked for five women to every hundred enrolled in each church.

Mrs. Lathrop emphasized the importance of the committee on intercessions, of which Mrs. Charles H. Jones is appointed the chairman. This committee will perhaps not be seen as a public part, according to the general chairman, but it will certainly have an important part in seeking intercession and offering prayer.

SOCIETY WOMEN GREET RETURNING TROOPS

Among the boys of Battery A, who came home today, were many soldiers who are members of the social set. As was to be expected their relatives and friends met the Battery when it pulled into Boston. In the picture are (left to right) Mrs. Sebastian Jordan, Mrs. Franklin A. Stewart and Miss Mary A. Murray. Baby Mary Jordan is at the left.

Over $40,000 in Detroit Collections.

By ELIAS A. McQUAID.

Detroit, Oct. 17.—No further collections will be taken on the Billy Sunday tabernacle in Detroit, it was announced, for any purpose in any way connected with the Billy Sunday meetings. Announcement is made by the National Bank of Commerce, acting as custodian for the Detroit committee, that $40,000 has been collected now to $40,345.09 or about $200 more than estimated.

Three weeks remain of the Sunday meetings and such collections as are approved hereafter will be for local charities only. By this time it is pretty generally known throughout the country that the one and only Tabernacle collection for the benefit of the evangelist himself is the gift will offering taken up on the last day of his stay.

Feeling that their only chance of getting a campaign audience in Detroit was on Sunday's "Monday off," the Prohibitionists brought their national ticket to town all the way from Huntington, Ind. Crowds which filled two downtown churches remained until midnight to hear Stanley and Landrith. The candidates for President and Vice-President were several hours behind their schedule. They blamed it onto the railroad and were forgiven.

Governor Hanley says Michigan is "sure to go dry" and that the State will be in good company, for, he says, Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana and Washington also vote for the Prohibition column and nothing can stop them.

The Prohibition leaders are making twenty stops and as many speeches in Michigan, supplementing the work of William A. Sunday.

The evangelist took a genuine day off. He didn't even go downtown for the Prohibition watch night.

Assistant United States Attorney-General Samuel J. Graham is here from Washington in connection with the discovery that thousands of names are on the Detroit voting lists illegally.

COURT RESTRAINT PROTECTS THEATRE

Judge Jenney of the Superior Court issued an injunction today, restraining William C. Franke, and the officers and members of the Moving Picture Operators' Protective Union of Boston, Local No. 182, from No. 182, from displaying banners, signs or cards declaring that the Apollo Theatre on Washington street is unfair to the members of the union.

Meat Eaters' Backache

Meat lovers are apt to have backaches and rheumatic attacks. Unless you do heavy work and get lots of fresh air, don't eat too much meat. It's rich in nitrogen and helps to form uric acid—a solid poison that irritates the nerves, damages the kidneys and often causes dropsy, gravel and urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills help weak kidneys to throw off uric acid. Thousands recommend Doan's for backache.

Here's Boston Proof:

Frank Rehfield, proprietor of barber shop, 85 Sudbury street, says: "I was troubled for quite a while by my kidneys and back. There was a dull pain over each kidney, which hurt me terribly and made me nervous. The kidney secretions were often irregular in passage. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I have not had any trouble since."

WILSON FAILS TO GET POLAND AID

By FRANK R. LAMB.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Shadow Lawn, Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 17.—President Wilson's efforts to get assistance from foreign rulers for starving Poland have failed.

The President today announced the failure of his plea and made public the letter as sent abroad. The statement follows:

"I have now received replies from the King of England, the President of France, the Emperor of Russia, the Emperor of Germany and the Emperor of Austria to my letter of July 20, 1916, in which I tendered the friendly offices of this government in negotiations looking to fresh consideration of the possibility and method of relieving Poland.

"It appears, I regret to say, that there are still important differences between the allied and central powers as to the terms under which relief supplies may be sent to Poland. I am disappointed that I have not yet been successful in inducing the powers to conclude a definite settlement."

APPEAL TO RULERS.

The President's letter follows.

"In view of the overwhelming disasters which have befallen millions of non-combatant inhabitants of Poland, I feel justified by the universal and earnest expression of the sympathies of the American people, regardless of racial origin or political sentiments, to suggest to Your Majesty that the subject of ways and means for the saving of those people who still survive be given further benevolent consideration by Your Majesty's government.

"While no one can fail to appreciate the sufferings and sacrifices of the people primarily engaged in the existing war, nor the difficulties in the way of alleviating the hardships of those who are the incidental sufferers from the war, the slow or rapid starvation of millions of innocent people is so awful a fact that such an outcome should be averted if it is within the compass of human effort to avert it.

PLEDGED AID OF U. S.

"In the effort to avert it I confidently pledge the co-operation of the people of the United States if only the way can be found to make the co-operation effective. May I, therefore, be permitted to suggest that an entirely fresh consideration be given to the possibility and method of relief for Poland and to tender the friendly offices of this government to negotiations to this end, it being understood that any plan proposed shall be of such a character as to be adapted to the accomplishment of no other result than that of the relief of the distressed inhabitants of Poland.

"In conclusion I can only add that it is my sincere hope that Your Majesty will see in this note no intention to interfere with the rights and duties of Your Majesty's government, but merely the attempt to express to Your Majesty the sympathy and compassion toward the starving inhabitants of Poland felt by the citizens of the United States—a sympathy and compassion which they do not desire shall be evidenced by idle words, but which they hope they may be permitted to express by assisting in the actual work of furnishing food to the starving inhabitants of Poland.

"I have the honor to be, Your Majesty, faithfully yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

BIG WELCOME TO BATTERY A BOYS

and everyone laughed, and pretty nearly every one cried happily and a grand time was "had by all," if one please.

INCLUDES 217.

Two hundred and seventeen men came home today. They included Battery A, together with the headquarters company, with the exception of the second battalion headquarters company.

The train arrived at 9:01—twenty long cars, including six flat cars, a gondola, two box cars, three horse cars, three tourist cars, two baggage cars and three sleeping cars.

More than fifty automobiles, which had borne those who came to greet the home-comers, were parked on the Huntington avenue and in the yards.

Colonel Sherburne, assisted by Major R. B. Hale and Captain Edward R. Richardson of Battery A, supervised the work of detraining and taking off horses and equipment.

The men worked by squads, and while they worked, those who had come to welcome them were making the acquaintance of their pets.

A SMALL SIZE ZOO.

These included a four and a half foot bull snake, two lonely looking houn' dogs, and any number of tiny Chihuahua pups—most of them named Villa.

Not a man of them all was sick on the six days of the homeward journey; and everyone had a good word to say for the service they have had on the border.

Batteries B and C were reported in Albany today. Battery B will come home to Worcester tonight and Battery C to Lawrence early tomorrow.

The Battery brought horses from Texas to handle its guns and limbers; but there were no horses available for the sixteen-piece band when the parade started today, and so the Battery marched without its mush.

The Adjutant-General's office was notified today by wire from Fort Smith, Arkansas, that the first section of the Fifth had waited there for the second and third sections.

It was supposed this meant the regiment would reach Boston in a body so as to be able to parade through the streets.

Feast for Troops From Waltham.

F Company, Fifth Regiment, will be given an ovation in Waltham either Thursday or Friday evening on their return from the border. The members of the company hail from Waltham. Business men are co-operating with the members of the city government in making arrangements for the reception. The tentative program includes the appointment of a committee of business men to go with the members of the city government to the Waltham depot to meet the returning soldiers. A band will head the line of march to City Hall, where a banquet will be given the soldiers. Representative John F. Goldeis will be toastmaster.

Briand Declares That France Has Regained Lost Prestige

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Oct. 17.—"France's prestige has become extraordinary in fact it was never greater."

This declaration was made by Premier Briand in a remarkable conversation with Alfred Capus, famous French publicist. The Premier was asked when the war would end, and the conversation that followed was made public today.

"I cannot say when this conflict will end," replied the Premier, "but I will point out that we have already regained the prestige we lost in 1870. On the way we won the Marne victory all peoples recognized that they had been misjudging our character.

"France's prestige has become extraordinary. In fact, it was never greater. We have regained our national personality reconquered all of our good influences. The consequences of this will be incalculable from the viewpoint of trade and the arts. While victory will demand a hard price, it is worth patiently waiting for. In fact, our freedom—the very life of the republic—depends upon it."

Love's Language Is All Its Own

You need to be in love to understand the language of love," was the statement made today by Rev. Dr. C. F. Difford of Brookline Baptist Church before the National Reform Association at its meeting in Colpoon Hall.

Dr. Difford was speaking of the different ways the English language is used and how hard it was to interpret its meaning in many relations to life.

"You have to be a baseball fan to understand the language of the baseball reporter," he pointed out. "Lawyers have a language of their own as do doctors. Mrs. Eddy's Science and Health has a language of its own so often do not know what she means by what she writes. This teaches us that you have got to be in the spirit of a thing before you can appreciate it."

FINED $10 FOR SHOOTING ROBIN

Francis Cardella of No. 57 Dorchester avenue, South Boston, was fined $10 in the Waltham Police Court today for shooting a robin. The complaint was made by Patrolman Burke of the Waltham force, who said he was shooting in the woods and saw Cardella shoot the bird.

FOSS OR HALE TO OPPOSE LODGE

[illegible] Matthew Hale, chairman of the Progressive State Committee, in former Governor Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, will be the opponent of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Former Governor William L. Douglas has withdrawn, as has former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald.

Neither Foss nor Hale has announced definitely that he will be a candidate, but it is generally understood that the Democratic State Committee, in committee of [illegible] leaders, to-morrow, will [illegible] the matter under consideration, and [illegible] Democratic candidate.

DEMOCRATS UNSETTLED.

After consultation with his friends [illegible] ex-Governor Foss, who at one time thought he might be a candidate in the primary for the Republican Senatorial nomination, but decided not to run when ex-Mayor Fitzgerald entered the field.

A story was in circulation that Judge Riley, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, would withdraw and offer his place on the ticket to Foss, but this was denied today by [illegible] that he had no such intention.

RILEY TO STICK.

Another was mentioned, a political friend of Eugene N. Foss, who at one time thought he might be a candidate in the primary for the Democratic Senatorial nomination, but decided not to run when ex-Mayor Fitzgerald entered the field.

A story was in circulation that Judge Riley, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, would withdraw and offer his place on the ticket to Foss, but this was denied today by [illegible] that he had no such intention.

KEEPS INSIDE THE THREE-MILE LIMIT

The British steamship Dutton Castle, arrived in port from the Far East today, with a cargo valued at more than $1,000,000, consigned to H. Y. Smith, who is to receive the cargo at Pride's Crossing, where the woman's father, President H. Pitney, Boston banker, has 10 of England Paper. It was stated that he, Morton Prince of Boston, and Mrs. Prince had gone to take charge of the remains at the French field hospital where young Prince succumbed to his wounds.

STRICKEN ON EVE OF GOLDEN WEDDING

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson, of this city had planned to celebrate their golden wedding today, and invitations had been issued. But Mr. Stevenson was stricken with apoplexy and died before any guests arrived. He was a retired merchant and was seventy-eight years old.

BOSTON DOCTOR FOUND GERM OF PLAGUE

A Boston man, Dr. Edward H. Towne, has been instrumental in finding the much-sought infantile paralysis germ which according to Dr. Edward C. Rosenow, head of the bacteriological department of the Mayo Foundation, is generally found in the tonsils of children suffering from the disease.

Boston physicians as well as those of New York, where much of the experimental work has been done are elated at the discovery and believe they are on the right track in pursuit of the elusive germ.

The experimental work, which is believed to have been of tremendous value, was conducted in New York in the old Rockefeller Hospital, but Boston physicians have a like, if not finer equipped for the purpose.

There Dr. Rosenow and Dr. Simon W. Wheeler of the New York Hospital conducted an elaborate series of experiments which, it is believed, will go some time before to [illegible].

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

The very important result of Dr. Rosenow's work during the past [illegible] months was announced in Minneapolis a few days ago. It was the discovery that infantile the germ which, it has isolated was found in the tonsils of children suffering from infantile paralysis. Dr. Rosenow says that the tonsil plays an important part in the contraction of the disease.

Many cases of infantile paralysis, therefore, [illegible] since the isolating of Dr. Rosenow's discoveries and the removal of the tonsils of children might not prevent infantile paralysis, but it would undoubtedly have shown that children suffering from [illegible] were not [illegible] showed striking improvement after the tonsils had been removed.

Of 125 cases of infantile paralysis treated at the New York Hospital during the present year, 100 were in the street before the tonsils and adenoids had been removed before the infantile paralysis had been contracted. Of the twenty-five cases treated in the hospital after the disease had developed, the tonsils had been removed before the disease and the disease [illegible] from [illegible]

MORE OBSERVATION.

But physicians believe and doubtless Dr. Rosenow would agree with them if it was possible to get him to talk for publication on the subject, that it is premature to say that the [illegible] is greater [illegible] than 125 cases would have to be observed before any definite [illegible] could be drawn. It is believed [illegible] what is more important [illegible] the tonsils and adenoids [illegible] infantile paralysis [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SKEFFINGTON'S SLAYER TRIED TO ESCAPE BLAME BY FORGERY

London, Oct. 17.—That Bowen-Colthurst, the British army captain who brutally shot down F. Sheehy Skeffington, the noted Dublin editor, during the Irish revolution, was a forger in addition to being a murderer, appears from the report of the official commission which has announced its finding in the complaint against Lieutenant Morris, the English officer who caused Skeffington to be detained and sent to the barracks. The commission absolves Morris from blame.

The commission declares that Bowen-Colthurst, in the basis of executing his killing of Skeffington, placed among documents on the dead Irish editor's body, a forged paper entitled, "Secret Orders to the Military."

SUPERIORS LAX.

This was a forgery from beginning to end, the commission states.

Laxity on the part of Bowen-Colthurst's superiors, either due to the lateness of the hour or the strain of the anxious hours, resulted in the captain being at liberty to deal with the civilian prisoners as he saw fit on the morning that Skeffington met his summary death.

The commission reports that it is satisfied that the seriousness of the irregularity committed by Captain Bowen-Colthurst was not fully realized by those under whose command he was supposed to be acting.

Apart from the defence of insanity, the commissioners state that "there can be no excuse or palliation for Bowen-Colthorst's conduct from first to last."

The shooting of Bowen-Colthurst of the Irish lad Coade, one of the atrocities revealed last Spring, was also held by the commission to be without justification.

This was another brutal act. Just before he was shot Coade smoked a cigarette. That enslaved Bowen-Colthurst, who exclaimed:

"Quit smoking that c—— cigarette."

STRIKES BOY.

Then he struck Coade on the jaw with the butt of his rifle. Coade started to run and then there was a shot. The boy put his hand on his side and fell.

These facts were brought out at Bowen-Colthurst's hearing.

Concerning the execution of Skeffington the report of the commission says:

"It is a delusion to suppose that the proclamation of martial law confers upon an officer any right to take human life in circumstances where this would not be justifiable without such proclamation, and this deluding had tragic consequences in the present case."

Skeffington when killed was given neither time to pray nor to send a last message to his wife. He was neither bound nor blindfolded. Without a court-martial or any sort of trial he was ordered away to be shot.

Girl Sues Father, Charging Loss of Son's Love

An alienation suit for $25,000 brought by Miss Kathryn C. Ellis against George C. Warren came to light today when the demurrer filed by Warren was dismissed.

Miss Ellis claims she was engaged to marry Lewis C. Warren, son of George C. Warren. She said she had made all preparations for the wedding when the elder Warren interfered and alienated the affections of his son from her.

She claims she was put to great expense and suffering through the shattering of her romance.

She gave up employment, she says, by agreement with the elder Warren, and she claims she also gave up certain friends and associates at his request.

He then recognized the engagement, she says, and gave his consent. She was received into the family, but later was forbidden to enter the house, she says, and the engagement was broken.

WOMEN WILL RUN SILENT CAMPAIGN

A campaign of "silent speaking" will be made in Massachusetts by the women who have formed an auxiliary to the Woodrow Wilson Independent League.

The life story of President Wilson and the achievements of his administration will be told in photographs and framed cartoons.

Vacant stores and other places where the crowds may congregate will be utilized and attractive young women will hold up the pictures to the view of the interested citizens.

There will be no oratory.

This plan of campaign was decided at a meeting today of several prominent women identified with the Wilson campaign in Massachusetts, including Mrs. William C. Sturgis, Mrs. Idella Anne Mead, Mrs. George Nesmith, Mrs. Ida S. Ripley of Cambridge, Miss Anne Withington, Mrs. A. Lincoln Pierce and Mrs. F. P. Magoun.

The league will avail itself this week for the first time of the much-mooted Progressive party mailing list.

TO LAY KEELS OF 2 DREADNOUGHTS

Washington, Oct. 17.— The announcement was made today by Admiral W. S. Benson, acting Secretary of the Navy, that the keel of the first American dreadnought, the California, will be laid at the Mare Island Navy Yard at San Francisco on Wednesday, Oct. 25. Soon thereafter the keel of the dreadnought Tennessee will be laid at the New York Navy Yard after the launching of the battleship New Mexico.

The California and Tennessee were authorized by Congress early in 1915, and are being built in government navy yards because the bids of private contractors exceeded the authorized limits of cost fixed by Congress.

The California and Tennessee will be similar in design to the New Mexico, Mississippi and Idaho, displacing 32,300 tons each and mounting twelve 14-inch guns. Their length will be 624 feet and breadth 97 feet 4½ inches, and a speed of 21 knots is required.

FARM LOAN ACT TO HELP 2D MORTGAGES

Washington, Oct. 17.—The long-standing prejudice against second mortgages on farm lands, notorious as risky investments, will be a thing of the past when the federal farm loan act is in full operation, the Farm Loan Board announced today.

Under the farm loan act the government can make loans of only 50 per cent of the value of the land, taking first mortgages. The second mortgage, therefore, will be secured by as much value as the first, providing there is no depreciation in value.

FIND MRS. SMALL'S DRESS IN RUINS

Mountain View, N. H., Oct. 17.—The finding of a diamond ring, a dress partly burned and several pieces of wire by the searchers in the cellar at the ruins of the Small cottage on the shore of Lake Osipee are the new developments in the Small murder case. This crime occurred September 28, Mrs. Arlene Small being killed in a brutal manner, and the home burned.

The dress was found under a pile of burned small pieces of timber. It is believed to be the one worn by Mrs. Small at the time she met her death. The officials make no statement. No dress was found at the time the body was discovered, although portions of her corsets were found on the body. The ring was badly burned. The wires are not thought to be of much importance.

The search is to try to find some parts of a time fuse which could have been used in the setting of the fire. The county officials and Attorney General Tuttle of Manchester are at work preparing for the trial in December.

The past record of Frederick L. Small, the husband of the murdered woman, who is charged with the crime is being investigated. No report has been received from Dr. Magrath of Boston, who is examining the stomach of Mrs. Small. This may not come for three weeks.

All of the articles found are in charge of Sheriff Arthur W. Chandler and being kept at his home in North Conway. At the county jail Mr. Small spends the most of his time reading and writing.

The session of the Superior Court will open at Ossipee the first Tuesday in December. If the indictment is found he will be given a chance to plea after which the date of the hearing will be arranged. Judge John Kivel of Dover will preside at the session.

CHINAMAN HELD FOR PROFANITY

J. G. Tong, of No. 83 Harrison avenue, has the distinction of being the first Chinaman ever arrested in Boston charged with profanity. According to the police, he has chased several little girls away from his store and had, in turn, been chased by a dozen small boys. He was standing at bay, roundly "cussing" the boys when arrested. His case will be tried Thursday, there being no interpreter in court today when the case was called.

STRONG WARNING SERVED ON GREECE

London, Oct. 17.—Another note, said to be stronger in tone than any of its predecessors, has been handed to the Greek government by Vice-Admiral Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet in the Mediterranean. The Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph says that a cabinet council has been summoned.

A Reuters dispatch from Athens says that more than 1,000 French and British soldiers have been landed and are patrolling Athens. They are declared to be supported by machine guns.

ORDERS LEYDEN TRIAL TO PROCEED

Judge Quinn in the Salem Superior Court today overruled a motion to quash the indictments against the members of the Haverhill city Council for failure to suppress "a riot or unlawful assembly" in Haverhill in April.

This was the riot growing out of an attempt of Rev. Thomas K. Leyden, a Protestant clergyman, to speak in Haverhill on affairs of the Catholic Church.

EDUCATION FOR STATE'S CONVICTS

A plan to extend the benefits of the State's "correspondence school" system to the inmates of the Charlestown State's Prison and the Concord Reformatory is under consideration by the State Board of Education.

Director James A. Moyer of the Department of University Extension said that the cost to the State of textbooks would be comparatively small. "The only question," he said, "is as to whether the prison officials can permit the installation of the system for benefit of the prisoners without disturbing the regular routine."

COURT IS LENIENT WITH BRIDEGROOM

Special Railroad Officer Frank Kenny, just back from his honeymoon, was placed on probation today after arraignment in the municipal court, charged with assault with a revolver on John Ansantis, proprietor of a Washington street restaurant. According to the testimony, Kenny got into an argument with Ansantis in the restaurant, drew a revolver and was quickly arrested.

EPISCOPALIAN WIVES MUST 'OBEY'

Boston Episcopalians were much interested today in the failure to drop the word "obey" from the marriage service, at the general convention of the church in St. Louis, which action had been recommended in a minority report submitted to the convention.

The House of Deputies referred back to the commission on prayer book all proposed changes in the marriage service. These questions cannot come again before the general convention for three years.

For three more years, then, women who are married by Episcopalian clergymen must promise to "obey" their husbands, just as they have from time immemorial.

Another proposed change that met the same fate as the omission of "obey," was the attempt to omit the phrase, "and with all my worldly goods I thee endow."

The report of the commission to revise the Book of Common Prayer has been presented to the House of Bishops at the convention.

The revised version of the five commandments as proposed follows:

1—Thou shalt have no other Gods but Me.

2—Thou shalt not make unto thyself any graven image nor likeness of anything that is in the Heaven above, the earth beneath, or the water under the earth; thou shalt not bow down to them nor worship them.

3—Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.

4—Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath Day.

5—Honor thy father and thy mother.

Radical changes were voted in the hymnal. The revision leaves out more than 200 hymns now in use in current editions.

The places of these have been taken by hymns of the most approved type and from irreproachable sources.

WILSON COMPLETES CHICAGO PROGRAM

New York, Oct. 17.—Details of President Wilson's Chicago trip were announced today. He will leave tomorrow at 1 p. m. arriving in Chicago at 11:30 Thursday morning. He will have lunch at the Chicago Press Club and in the afternoon will address a non-partisan gathering of women. The big speech will be delivered at night before the third annual New Citizens' Allegiance convention. Numerous brief stops will be made enroute.

SOMERVILLE MAN HURT IN CAVE-IN

Timothy Buckley of Dane avenue, Somerville, was seriously injured today, when the walls of the cellar where he was working at No. 14 Everett street, Somerville, caved in. Buckley was buried up to his chest, and it was necessary to call the fire department to extricate him. He was taken to the Somerville Hospital, where he will recover.

Record Mackerel Catch Nets $10,000

All fishing records for the port of Boston were smashed today, when the schooner Arthur James of Gloucester, came up the harbor under full sail, with 100,000 pounds of mackerel aboard, the result of one day's catch.

The cargo was sold for $10,000, almost before the schooner had docked at the big fish pier in South Boston. There are twenty men in the crew, who will make more than $250 each, as the result of one day's work.

The Arthur James sailed from Provincetown yesterday morning. She had not passed out of sight of Highland Light, when one of the biggest schools of mackerel that any of the crew of veteran fishermen had ever seen loomed up on the port bow.

Slavs Defeat Turks.

Petrograd, Oct. 17. — In a cavalry battle, fifty miles west of Erzerum, Armenia, the Russians defeated the Turks, according to a War Office statement today. The Turkish port of Bolus being bombarded.

TRIED TO MAKE PEACE; WAS SUED

How Morris Seidler of No. 35 Bower street, Roxbury, tried to separate two women was told to Judge Wentworth in the civil session of the Municipal Court today.

Catherine Robinson of Boston, one of the alleged principals in a fistic contest, brought suit for $2,000 against Seidler, whom she alleged hit her on the hand in a scuffle while acting as arbitrator. Judge Wentworth took the case under advisement.

Testimony showed that Seidler and some companions visited a friend's home in Winthrop and took part in a card party. The men were playing downstairs and the women enjoyed themselves upstairs.

Miss Robinson missed a dollar from her wallet and as a result of what she said, she and another woman clinched. Seidler, it is said, acted as referee and tried to separate the women. It was while trying to release Miss Robinson, it is charged, Seidler bit her on the hand.

Counsel for Seidler argued that the alleged biting was justifiable and that it was Seidler's duty to separate the two women; that it was a difficult proposition to part two fighting women. It was argued that Miss Robinson did not suffer any serious damages, though her hand was bandaged for a week.

CHARGES POISONED KNIFE WAS USED

By International News Service.

New York, Oct. 17.—That a knife dipped in poison by express order of ex-Deputy Street Cleaning Commissioner Rofrano was used in the first attempt against the life of Michael Galmaro, political henchman of "Big Tom" Foley, was the statement made today on the witness stand by Gastano Montimagno, the twenty-one-year-old deathhouse inmate, in Rofrano's trial for instigation of the Galmaro murder.

The poisoned knife plot having failing to result in Galmaro's death, the witness said, Rofrano hired him to "job" Galmaro with a revolver.

KEITH OFFERS SPARKLING BILL

Sweet-voiced Grace LaRue, the Boston favorite, heads a sparkling bill of song and comedy this week at Keith's. Miss LaRue is as charming as ever and sings love songs delightfully. She has a number of new ones, her "Two Eyes of Grey," "Love Me at Twilight" and "They Wouldn't Believe Me" being especially pleasing. She also sings "I Love You So," which she wrote. Besides her love songs she sings the difficult "Cry of Rachel."

Second only to her act and quite popular is the musical number of Dane Claudius and Lillian Scarlet, which they call the "Call of the Sixties."

Claudius and Miss Scarlet are banjoists and play the music for old time songs, the words of which are shown on a screen.

The first number on the bill after the Hearst pictures is "The Five o' Clubs," a clever club throwing quintet. Jack King and Morton Harvey follow with a cluster of songs, funny and serious.

Hugh McCormack and Grace Wilson, ventriloquists, have a number of novelties in their act. Harry Lester Mason gives a laughable monologue on the troubles of a waiter, and Charlie Ahern, the tramp comedian, offers a big act called "Everything on Wheels."

Mac Tully presents a most pleasing sketch, "Mary's Ankle," with Lynna Overman in the leading part and William Eglinerton winds up the bill with a beautiful horse and dog posing act.

MODERN THEATRE—Both of the two first-run features shown at the Modern Theatre yesterday had for their stars young women, and both plays were invested with the charm that finds appeal in all hearts. In "The Ragged Princess" June Caprice plays the part of a little girl raised in a big orphanage. She runs away from the institution—and employed as a chore boy on a farm her adventures begin. Her sex is discovered and she is forced to flee. In a large city she meets a man who adopts her. As a play of latter day romance it is as daintily beautiful as can be pictured.

"Rolling Stones" is the comedy at the Castle Square Theatre this week. With the large audience last night it met none of its mirth provoking qualities, and kept the fun going from start to finish.

The plot of "Rolling Stones" is filled with surprises and amazing situations.

In the first act the two rolling stones, Buck Ryder and Dave Fulton, grapple on a Chicago bridge and find that they are both down and out with stories similar enough to make them into "pals."

Fulton is taken for the rich heir, Jericho W. Braden, owner of a large candy factory. He takes charge of the business, but finds that he must marry a strange girl or lose the estate.

Business goes fairly well until the detectives enter, and the candy factory manager begins to "get wise," and when it looks like the game is up the real Braden appears and establishes his claim.

The entire play comes under the head of farce comedy, with horse play sprinkled throughout. The actors were 29 per cent. too noisy and vociferous last night, and would greatly improve the funny play if the many scenes should be subdued and more focusing on character work instead upon.

WALDRON'S CASINO—The "Maids of America" are at Waldron's Casino this week in the extravaganza "The Girl from Nowhere." Much of the brilliancy is due to the efforts of the big cast at the head of which is Al K. Hall, assisted by Bobby Barry. These two comedians have the characters of Eastland and Westwind called out of nowhere by the fairy Latitia.

In the course of the story the winds blow in many lands and each country visited is realistically shown.

PARK THEATRE—At the Park Theatre this week is Alice Brady in the "Gilded Cage," a gripping drama. In it the personality and histrionic ability of Alice Brady has full swing. Following is C. Aubrey Smith as Jaffery and Eleanore Woodruff as Doria, in the famous play "Jaffery." Included on the program is Mr and Mrs. Sydney Drew in their comedy "Between One and Two." The musical part of the program included Marguerite Gallagher.

Plays That Remain

SHUBERT THEATRE—The second last week of "So Long Letty," Oliver Morosco's musical comedy, started at the Shubert Theatre last evening with the same houseful of patrons that has characterized all of the performances that have been given of this attraction since it opened.

WILBUR THEATRE—"Very Good Eddie" began its tenth week at the Wilbur Theatre last evening, with no perceptible drop in the attendance, which has broken records at this popular playhouse.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—"The Silent Witness" is entering its second last week at the Plymouth Theatre. Henry Kolker's portrayal of the district attorney and Mary Young's delineation of the mother, is the secret of the success that makes it seem as the story of the play unfolds.

TREMONT THEATRE—This is the last week of "Potash & Perlmutter Society" at the Tremont Theatre and the new comedy, dealing with the adventures of the familiar heroes, met with a hearty reception.

COLONIAL THEATRE—Many beauty shows from New York have come to Boston bearing the trade-mark of the Ziegfeld Follies, but the 10th edition seems to be the best-liked of them all. It started upon another week last evening.

PARK SQUARE THEATRE—"Good Gracious Annabelle" began its final fortnight at the Park Square Theatre last night. This farce was deemed by some its engagement next Saturday, but so quickly did Boston theatregoers rise to its appeal that the management was able to grant an additional week.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—In spite of the good vaudeville bill offered at the St. James Theatre the magnet yesterday was the showing of Clara Kimball Young in her newest characterization as the artist's model in "The Common Law." The vaudeville bill included the Sully Family in a funny farce, "The Information Bureau," the Empire Comedy Four, Edah Delbridge Trio, the Hellmontes, Warner and Corbett, and others.

BOSTON FOOD FAIR—Judging from the constantly-growing patronage, every single feature of the Boston Food Fair seems to be making a hit, from the balcony songs of Grace Hamilton down to the sight of a brawny butcher cutting up a side of beef at the cooking demonstrations of Sarah Dean Bradford in Talbot Hall. Yesterday was the beginning of the second week, and a larger attendance than ever was on hand at the opening of the doors at 10 a. m.

FILM STARS IN "ROMEO AND JULIET"

The original screen of the photoplay "Romeo and Juliet" featured this week's opening of the Globe Theatre.

Many admirers of Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne were present at the first audience to see the motion picture acting of the two stars in the elaborate production of Shakespeare's drama.

The magnificent work and scenes called forth frequent applause. The production fulfilled every expectation, and especially the fact that Shakespearian drama can be made wonderfully absorbing.

It is no such a scale that over three months were consumed in the actual work of photography, and the cost amounted upward of $250,000. The costumes alone cost $25,000, and the reproduction of the market place of ancient Verona meant a great outlay. Scenes of pomp and ceremony are shown, including civic and religious processions characteristic of the period.

Ever since Mr. Bushman and Miss Bayne came into fame, about five years ago, their friends have urged them to appear in "Romeo and Juliet." They turned a deaf ear to the proposals for the portrayal of the tragedy until they were assured it would be produced in keeping with their ideas and ideals.

GAIETY THEATRE—Harry Hastings's big show, headed by Dan Coleman, is at the Gaiety Theatre this week. Coleman is funnier than ever, has a dozen new scenes and is surrounded with a very capable company.

The first act is patterned after the Winter Garden shows. There is enough plot to sustain the interest and in the second act Mr. Coleman gives his female impersonation. Two local men, Frank Mallahan and Frank O'Neil, are with the show and yesterday they were received with great acclaim.

THE FENWAY—A delighted audience filled The Fenway last evening to enjoy the big double bill, Pauline Frederick in the Paramount feature, "Ashes of Embers," and the Wm. Fox production, "The Unwelcome Mother." The world's greatest dancers in the Paramount novelty photoplay, "The Quest of Life," are announced for the three days commencing Thursday, on the same bill with Charlie Chaplin in his latest laughing success, "The Pawnshop."

OSCAR WILDE PLAY WELL GREETED

Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," was capably presented at the Copley Theatre last night by the Jewett Players. It was Boston's first night of the play in a long, long while, and right hearting was the greeting extended to it and those in the cast by a fully appreciative audience.

There is a fine charm to the Wilde play and there are chances for some whole-souled laughter, and that it is still fresh and enjoyable is proven by the Jewett performance. The production as an entertainment and vehicle for splendid acting, was complete.

Leon Gordon as Algernon Moncrieff and Lionel Glenister as John Worthing, J. P., shared honors in their presentations of two young bachelors. Jessamine Newcombe as the Hon. Gwendolyn Fairfax and Beatrice Miller as Cecily Cardew, the two young women sought by the two young men, were finely contrasted.

Isabel Merson, as Miss Prism, a governess, gave an able interpretation of the role. Though she, too, was a caricature, as the comedy demands, she also suggested definitely a very recognizable person.

The play for next week is "Mrs. Dane's Defence," by Henry Arthur Jones.

ORPHEUM THEATRE—A perfectly combined bill of vaudeville and photo features was presented at the Orpheum Theatre yesterday. Among the chief numbers on the bill was that of Herbert's Circus, consisting of two ponies and a mischievous mule, presided over by a young woman as ring-mistress. Ethel Mae Hall offered her farce, "The Wrong Guy." Tom Mahoney was quite the laughing hit of the bill. The balance included Reed and Wright, the Fidas Swan Trio, Walton and Dollberg, and others. The feature photo play shown was "The Rummy," of which the featured player is Wilfred Lucas.

GORDON'S OLYMPIA—The little ones and the grownups were simply delighted with the comical antics of Little Hip, the baby elephant, and his partner, Napoleon, the monkey comedian. The Colonial Belles, twelve pretty girls who sang and played; Sally and Arnold, a song and dance team; Amoros and Melvey, a comedy playlet, "When We Grow Up," and Gray and Graham completed the bill. The pictures were "Witchcraft" and "Life's Shadows."

HENRY EIGHTH PRESENTED BY TREE

By FRED J. McISAAC.

A dramatic critic is supposed in some mysterious way to have seen all the plays that have been produced since Fletcher, and to be as familiar with Edwin Booth and Charlotte Cushman that he can compare all modern actors with them inwittingly.

Now I confess that I never saw a performance of "King Henry the Eighth" before last evening, and hadn't read the drama since I was a schoolboy. Therefore, Sir Herbert Tree's production of Henry Eighth was just like a new play to me and to all who saw it from the audience at the Hollis Street Theatre last night.

Sir Herbert Tree, himself, had not visited Boston for close on twenty years, and more than that since Sir Henry Irving played Cardinal Wolsey, Henry Irving

FRIENDS OF IRISH FREEDOM LAUD I. N. S. STAND

The following resolutions have been adopted by the Roger Casement branch, Friends of Irish Freedom, at a meeting in Franklin Hall, the branch voting to send them to William Randolph Hearst and the Boston AMERICAN:

We return our most grateful thanks to the Boston AMERICAN and Mr. Hearst for the great editorial in last Friday's AMERICAN, "A Reply to the Malignant and Lying Accusations of the British Government That We Distort and Garble War News."

The greatest issue before the American people today is riddance of the debasing and vulgarizing influence of England.

We, citizens of a supposedly free republic, are the victims in innumerable ways of the British lie; that major weapon of England, so eloquently described by Roger Casement. As a result of this terrible war in Europe, which England has brought about for the purpose of destroying a successful rival, we are paying daily, in the increased cost of necessities of life and other commodities, over $30,000,000, more than England is paying for this war, as shown by the AMERICAN, and this enormous tax is continuously increasing.

If our government were as prompt in defending Americans' interests against British aggression as Mr. Hearst is in courageously defending the International News Service against the British blacklist, we might now be free from this financial bondage.

The press of the United States, with but few honorable exceptions, is in complete control of the British censor. To our eternal disgrace it is disseminating falsehood and outflaming discension and race hatred amongst us at the behest of its foreign masters.

Never before was the English lie, English hypocrisy, arrogance and Pharisaism so relentlessly and opportunely exposed as in Mr. Hearst's editorial. It sounds the death knell of colonialists. It comes like a bolt from the blue sky to rid our atmosphere of the noxious and suffocating gases of Anglomania and goes far to redeem our press.

At a time when Torvism, British finance and the British lie dominate our press, it is a consolation to know that the least papers are financed with American money, and that back of them are American patriotism and manhood in the person of America's greatest editor, William Randolph Hearst.

M'CALL ASKS VOTES FOR REFERENDUM

Great Barrington, Oct. 17.—A plea for a yes vote on the constitutional convention referendum and another yes vote on the referendum as to the restoration of party enrolment was the feature of Governor McCall's addresses on his first day's campaigning through the western counties.

MRS. MUNSTERBERG LOSES HER PIGEONS

Mrs. Hugo Munsterberg, wife of the Harvard psychologist, has reported to the police that two valuable pigeons have been stolen from a coop in the rear of her home on Ware street, Cambridge.

The Treatment of Influenza or La Grippe

It is quite refreshing these days to read of a clearly defined treatment for Influenza or La Grippe. In an article in the "Locket-Clinic," Dr. James Bell, of New York City, says: "It is convinced that too much medication is both unnecessary and injurious.

When called to a case of la grippe, the patient is usually suffering with fever a present, as the chill which occasionally ushers in the disease has practically passed away. Dr. Bell then orders that the bowels be opened freely with "Acrolds" or citrate of magnesia. For the high fever, severe headache and general soreness, one anti-kamnia tablet every three hours is quickly followed by complete relief. A fee of K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headache, neuralgia and all pains.

An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.—Advertisement

Bring Out Your Hidden Beauty

Beneath that soiled, discolored, faded or aged complexion is one fair to look upon. Mercolized wax will gradually, gently absorb the injured surface skin, revealing the youthful fresh, white and beautiful skin underneath. Used by refined women who prefer complexions of true naturalness. Mercolized wax in one ounce package, with directions for use, is sold by all druggists.—Advertisement

1,000 Lowell Cats Plague Victims

Lowell, Oct. 17.—Infantile paralysis has visited the cats of this city, 1,048 of which believed to have been suffering from the disease having been killed during the last three months.

In the opinion of Dr. C. E. Simson, a traveling agent of the State Health Department, the cats were suffering from infantile paralysis. They were killed by orders issued by C. E. Richardson, agent of the Humane Society, who made his report to Dr. Simson.

The disease affected the cats much the same as it does human beings, in almost every instance the rear legs and backs of the animals became paralyzed a few days after the disease was noticed.

Death has followed in a few days after the disease has been discovered. In those cases when the cats have not been killed. Most of the cats that have suffered from the disease have been pets, and in many instances were owned by some of the prominent families in the city. The cats are believed to have contracted the disease either by milk they have drunk or by rats they have eaten.

In spite of the prevalence of the epidemic among cats, the city as a whole has been comparatively free from the disease, as compared with other places, and only about a dozen cases have been reported.

CHILDREN REUNITE DIVORCED PARENTS

When application was made at the city registrar's office for a license for the marriage of Joseph Sterner of East Third street, South Boston, and of Flora R. Sterner, twenty-nine, of the same place, a romance was revealed.

Sterner, who is thirty-eight and an engineer at a fort in the harbor, was married and lived happily for several years with Flora R. Sterner, but the couple were divorced on May 22, 1914. Two children, Joseph R. and Albert W., were given into the custody of the father.

After two years and five months the couple are to marry again and will go to New Orleans.

It was said by a friend that the two little boys brought their parents together again.

GIRLS! MOISTEN A CLOTH AND DRAW IT THROUGH HAIR

Save your hair! All dandruff goes and hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleaning" if you want to make your hair double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness, fire and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Save your hair! Keep it looking charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.—Advertisement.

CASCARETS SELL TWENTY MILLION BOXES PER YEAR

Best, safest cathartic for liver and bowels, and people know it.

They're fine! Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy or constipated.

Enjoy life! Keep clean inside with Cascarets. Take one or two at night and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up feeling grand. Your head will be clear, your tongue clean, breath right, stomach sweet and your liver and thirty feet of bowels active. Get a box at any drug store and straighten up. Stop the headaches, bilious spells, bad colds and bad days—Brighten up. Cheer up. Clean up. Mothers should give a whole Cascaret to children when bilious, feverish or if tongue is coated — they are harmless — never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

HAIR GRAY? THEN APPLY Q-BAN

It Darkens Gray Hair Evenly

If your hair is gray, streaked with gray, permanently or just turning gray, or if your hair is dry, harsh, thin or falling, simply shampoo hair and scalp a few times with Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. It is harmless—no dye—but has the wonderful effect of reviving the color glands. Soon every strand of your hair (whether gray or not) becomes evenly dark, soft, glossy, fluffy, full of life and health, full and heavy and fascinating, just as you like to have your hair appear, and entire head of hair is so beautifully and evenly darkened no one could suspect you had applied Q-Ban. Not even a trace of gray shows. Sold on a money-back guarantee, 50c for a big bottle at Liggett's-Rikers-Jaynes Drug Stores, Boston, Mass. Out-of-town folks supplied by mail. —Advertisement.

DOROTHY SHEPARD, GIRL SUICIDE

The girl's mother, Mrs. Walter Shepard, denied that the girl had attempted suicide. She said:

"Last Summer we tipped over in a canoe on Lake Squam, my son, my daughter and myself. We were in deep water, about a third of a mile from shore. She struggled harder than any one of us to save herself and nearly drowned us all in doing so. If she wished for an opportunity for suicide that was an ideal one. We were finally rescued by some men in a boat."

The police believed today that the girl really attempted to commit suicide at that time, and that the ballchin incident was a second attempt. Her death today followed a third try.

FIGHTS TO REDUCE BOSTON SALOONS

A bill will be introduced in the Legislature next year calling for the reduction of the number of saloons in Boston from 1,000 to 750, according to Robert A. Woods, formerly of the Boston Licensing Board, who made this declaration before the Monday Evening Club at the Twentieth Century Club.

Woods said that the bill would be the occasion for a bitter struggle between the liquor interests and the organization behind the bill. Only by such a law, he said, can the suburbs be protected from encroachment by the saloon and the congested districts somewhat cleared out.

Woods also charged that the present licensing board under Fletcher Ranney has "drifted back to the negative attitude of the past."

"I am a bit afraid that the new board is not looking for trouble, and will not recognize trouble until it is forced down its throat, and that the point of view under which the bond was administered until recently has been lost sight of," he said.

It seems like a return to the negative point of view of the period prior to two years ago.

"In view of the fact that the police are not allowed in bars and cafes for any purpose, the announcement of the board that it has arranged for an active co-operation of the police in securing evidence of illegal conduct of the licensed places is interesting.

"The situation seems to indicate more deeply that the board is about to abolish the policy of having its own inspectors get reliable evidence, and is to fall back upon the police, who are not allowed inside the licensed places.

RUNAWAY GIRL TO WED MAN OF CHOICE

Leaving her hat at home, Miss Rita Hart of Woodstock, ran away to Boston. Now having received parental forgiveness, she will be married next Sunday to William Martin at the Church of the Advent. Mr. Hart consulted with Mrs. Martin, the boy's mother, and when she told him that they were going back to Woodstock to live he said he would forgive his daughter for running away.

ARGUMENT ENDS IN FATAL STABBING

Joseph Massarella, twenty-eight, of No. 126 Congress street, Chelsea, was stabbed to death by an unknown assailant in the North Ferry, after a heated argument between the two men. Massarella's wife and several relatives were present when the murder took place, but all were too dazed to stop the man, who fled and who has not yet been located.

Massarella's friends say that the argument was started in a public hall in East Boston, but that the matter of discussion between the two men was not known.

A settlement was apparently made and the man was not seen until he entered the North Ferry and again engaged Massarella in an argument. Suddenly, without a word of warning, he whipped a weapon from his pocket and stabbed Massarella through the heart.

Massarella was hastily removed to the East Boston Relief Station in the ambulance of Division 7, but was dead when the ambulance arrived at the hospital.

VILLA DEFEATS CARANZA ARMY

By International News Service.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Simultaneously with promises by Ambassador-Designate Arredondo and the American-Mexican commissioners at Atlantic City that Carranza is about to launch an extensive campaign against General Villa, comes a report that Villa has inflicted another crushing defeat on Carranza's forces at San Andres, not far from Chihuahua, the scene of his defeat of the Carrancistas on Independence Day last month.

Villa's latest victory serves to convince officials here that he and not Carranza is the master of Northern Mexico.

It was declared that this latest show of strength by Villa makes the Atlantic City negotiations appear little less than futile.

Reports reaching Washington today discloses Carranza has just deposed Fortunado Maezotte as governor of Durango, placing in his stead General Gavira, a notorious anti-American. Gavira is the "Jefe" who when in charge of affairs at Juarez was everywhere known as the "gringo hater."

Official Washington has not yet been apprised of the time for formal launching of the new revolution impending in Northern Mexico. The small stores of corn and beans are held at prohibitive prices, and famine is reported in the north.

Carranza's fiat money continues to be without purchasing power. The result is untold suffering in the States of Coahuila and Durango.

MANY ATTEND KIGGEN FUNERAL

The funeral of Dr. Joseph M. Kiggen, chairman of the Ward 24 Democratic Committee of Hyde Park and a noted veterinary surgeon, took place today at his residence, No. 58 Austin street, Hyde Park.

Prominent State and city officials, professional and business men were present in the Church of the Most Precious Blood, where a solemn high mass was said. Rt. Rev. James J. Chittick, pastor of the church, was celebrant; Rev. Edward Fraher, deacon, and Rev. Daniel J. O'Connor, subdeacon. During the funeral all the business stores of the district were closed. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

POPE ASKS CHILDREN FOR BELGIAN AID

By International News Service.

Rome, Oct. 17.—As a result of a visit from George Baker of New York, Pope Benedict has issued a special appeal to the children of the United States to aid the children of Belgium. Mr. Baker, who is interested in relief work, says that the Belgians are not only starving, but tuberculosis is raging there.

SAL ATTACKS ON THE SOMME FAIL

By International News Service.

Berlin, via Sayville, Oct. 17.—The most terrific "drumfire" of the whole war was directed by the Anglo-French artillery against the German positions on the Somme on October 11 and 12, according to the military critic of the Overseas News Agency.

In a review today he states that the German troops defending the Somme front had thought it impossible to exceed the violence of artillery fire as used by the allies' great attack during the first days of October. This was done, he adds, on the two days mentioned.

"Nevertheless," continues the writer, "and in spite of the terrific hail of iron, the English and French did not succeed in rendering the German positions ripe for storming.

"The engagements on October 11 and 12 were a new heavy failure of the French and British on the Somme. It becomes more and more probable that they will bleed to death on the unshakable German front just as the Russians did in Galicia."

Describing the battle he says: "French and English storming columns started in compact, crowded waves, but right after their beginning came to a standstill in the well-aimed German curtain of fire.

"In spite of heavy losses they attempted one advance after another against the German positions.

"Near Sailly six storming attacks were launched. All thrusts failed completely under the heaviest and most sanguinary losses to the attackers. The German infantry left the ground that had been battered into hollows, and standing upright they shot down the hostile storming columns with rifles and machine guns."

CAUGHT IN WINDOW, PERISHES IN FIRE

Philadelphia, Oct. 17.—The giant proportions and the bravery of Frank Margwarth cost him his life in a $2,000 fire that wrecked his cafe and home at No. 110 East Allegheny avenue.

Margwarth, who weighed nearly 300 pounds, remained in the burning building until satisfied that his wife, child, pet monkey and canary had been rescued, and then, overcome by smoke, became wedged in the second-story window, through which the entire crew of firemen attempted to pull him with a rope. When he was extricated he had inhaled flames and died while being taken to the Episcopal Hospital.

MEDICAL CORPS UNDER FIRE IN NEW 8TH REGIMENT SCANDAL

By BERT FORD.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 17.—Charges that sick soldiers of the Eighth Massachusetts Infantry were neglected and accused of shamming figure in the investigation which Major William J. Keville started today into the affairs of the regimental medical corps on instructions from General Sweetser, commanding the Second Massachusetts Brigade.

While no respondent is named in the order calling for the inquiry, it is no secret that the charges involve Captain James F. Coupal, a young physician with an office on Boylston street, Boston. Dr. Coupal was married a day or two before the troops left Framingham. He has held a captain's commission in the Eighth since June 25, 1913. Until the Bay State Brigade came to the Mexican border he was regarded as one of the most popular officers in the Eighth.

Captain Coupal was originally an appointee of Colonel Frank A. Graves, who was forced to resign because of alleged conduct unbecoming on officer. The Graves removal occurred almost simultaneously with the preferring of charges against Dr. Coupal by Major H. B. Campbell of the Eighth. Both sensational developments occurred on Saturday, but the Coupal matter was so carefully guarded that it did not crop out in sufficient form to publish until Lieutenant-Colonel William H. Perry, acting commander of the Eighth, issued the order for the inquiry as demanded by General Sweetzer.

INSISTS ON INQUIRY.

Fifteen or more witnesses have been summoned to give evidence before Major Keville, who will report to Lieutenant-Colonel Perry, and the latter will make known the finding to General Sweetzer. Captain Coupal was hailed before General Sweetzer on Saturday and stated his case. After the interview General Sweetzer informed Lieutenant-Colonel Perry that it was a regimental matter and that he wanted it thoroughly sifted. He added that if it were not probed to his satisfaction he would investigate it himself.

The order reads, "Major William J. Keville is hereby ordered to make an investigation of the alleged mistreatment of Private E. A. Whitaker, Company F, Eighth Massachusetts Infantry, and other persons on the troop train, en route from Boston to El Paso, July 10 to July 16, 1916."

Captain Coupal made the following statement today to the BOSTON AMERICAN correspondent:

"There isn't the slightest doubt in my mind that this is a personal matter. It is nothing but politics to get me out of the regiment, now that Colonel Graves has been removed. Everybody knew that I was loyal to Colonel Graves, whose ability and training as a soldier cannot be questioned. If anybody doubts that it ... a political trick let him remember how quickly action was taken after Colonel Graves' resignation.

"It was surprising how suddenly certain officers, whom I supposed to be friendly, changed their front. Perhaps I have been too indifferent to what others thought. Perhaps I have been too independent and careful of the interests of others. The most astonishing feature is that the very fair was investigated long ago and I was reprimanded for it. Colonel Graves, Lieutenant Colonel Perry was assigned to inquire into the matter, but at that time the chief aim was to protect the reputation of the regiment in connection with the misconduct of the recruits while enroute to El Paso.

KANSAS CITY RIOT.

"There was a riot at Kansas City. The recruits caused a great fuss. They rushed the guard and the city police had to be summoned. I had been placed in charge of the train by Porter Chase of the Second Corps Cadets, who was commander. He thought I could handle them. Everything went well until Kansas City was reached. When the men rushed the guard they rifled a fruit stand and otherwise misbehaved.

"Startling their escapades in Kansas City thefts were committed. Thefts were also committed on the train. Recruits complained of losing watches and other property. At the next stop I lined them up on the train and searched the men. One recruit fainted. I threw water on his face.

"This man Whitaker seemed to resent my action. He came at me with clenched fists. I struck his arm with my swagger stick. A fellow named Wilson also was threatening, and I recall that I pushed them away with my stick. I did not hurt either of them.

"When the recruits reached El Paso an inquiry was ordered by Colonel Graves, but it was generally agreed to suppress the misconduct as much as possible. The man Wilson was found to have a record. It was then suggested that he be charged with mutiny, but it was later decided this might bring reflection upon the regiment. As a matter of fact, I have Wilson's affidavit explaining matters satisfactorily. It is not true that Colonel Graves or I coerced Whitaker or Wilson or tried to force an affidavit from them.

DEATH OF HUSTON.

"So far as I am concerned, I supposed the incident closed. I am willing to stand on my record. I have been handling important cases for the surgeon-general and have had most of the officers' work. I also treated many of the officers and enlisted men in civil life. I regret this turn of affairs greatly, but am confident that I will be exonerated."

The present inquiry involves the case of Corporal Fred W. Huston of D Company, of Lynn, of the Eighth, who died September 8 at Fort Bliss Hospital, and whose body was accompanied home by his brother, Guy, a private in the same company.

RHEUMATISM AFTER HIS DAY'S OUTING

Hunting Trip On a Wet Day Brings Painful Results.

Once upon a time Charles Mullen of Philadelphia went gunning. It was a dismal, rainy day, and long exposure to cold and wet brought on a severe attack of rheumatism. He was confined to his home.

A friend recommended Sloan's Liniment, citing his own case as evidence of its effectiveness. Mullen bought a bottle and applied it to his aching limbs. Soon improvement was noticed and he was able to return to business.

Mr. Mullen writes: "Since that experience I have never been without Sloan's Liniment in the medicine chest." You will find it soothes bruises, sprains, backache and relieves lame back, neuralgia, in fact, all external pains. At all druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

Crawford Boilers

protect you from wasting money on "the next larger size" that is so generally recommended and so generally accepted in order to be "on-the-safe-side."

WHEN you specify a Crawford Boiler for your home you are buying a heat-rating that is guaranteed.

A Crawford Boiler rating is a standard of heat measure. You are guaranteed the heating capacity is there.

A building is always warm, comfortable and healthful with a Crawford Boiler at work in the basement.

Crawford Boilers are also economical. They give more heat per pound of coal than any other boiler. The deep, roomy fire box is responsible. It insures a dependable, slow-burning fire—with plenty of reserve capacity—that is not overtaxed in zero weather. A Crawford Dealer with gladly give you the other reasons why there is no better Boiler made.

LET PEOPLE RULE, SAYS MANSFIELD

Frederick W. Mansfield, Democratic candidate for Governor, at a rally in Watertown this noon declared that the initiative and referendum is a cure for most of the government ills that now exist. He advocated its adoption.

"A party may include in its platform a plank which is intended merely to catch votes and afterwards may repudiate that plank," he said. "This was done by the Republican party, which included in its platform last year the eight-hour day for paper mills, and which, when the bill came up, overwhelmingly defeated it.

"Under the initiative and referendum a certain reasonable number of the voters, by signing a petition, may propose placing upon the ballot of any law in which they are interested. In this way they initiate legislation. When the law is placed on the ballot it is referred to the people.

"In plain simple language it means that the people themselves may present to the voters, for their judgment at the polls, any piece of legislation in which the people are interested. I am heartily in favor of it.

"It is the nearest approach to the old-fashioned town government. It is the only scientific device to keep the politicians from disregarding the wishes of their constituents."

COURT CLOSES FOR BURDAKIN FUNERAL

The civil session of the Norfolk County Superior Court closed at noon today to allow the court officials and lawyers to attend the funeral of Joseph H. Burdakin, register of deeds in Norfolk county for forty-three years. There were services at his residence, No. 18 Guild terrace, Dedham, at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of Rev. William H. Parker, pastor of the Unitarian Church. The body was cremated at Forest Hills.

WEDDING NIGHT IN AN OPEN BOAT

Portland, Me., Oct. 17.—To spend their honeymoon night in an open boat, tossing about on a choppy sea, was the fate of Ralph Crocker and his bride, the former Miss Helen Johnson, who were married here yesterday.

Crocker, a twenty-one years old and his bride, not anywhere, decided to go to Cape Elizabeth and started early after the wedding reception home in a motor boat. They reached the all right until a storm arose. They was at 8 o'clock when the engine stopped working and the little boat bobbed up and down in a nasty chop developed.

The bride, her husband and Charles Crocker, a brother, put on life preservers and started for shore. The engine finally started again, with the exception of a sputter now and then, and Crocker, who was at the helm of the boat, steered by it and heard the roar of the breakers.

Thinking there was danger of the boat being dashed to pieces, Crocker handed his bride in his arms, jumped overboard and swam for fifty yards to shore.

They had landed on Long Island within half a mile of where they intended to spend the night. The bride and bridegroom are ill today.

FIND WOMAN BOUND AND BED BURNING

New York, Oct. 17.—The authorities are today investigating a strange tale told by Mrs. Emily Gardner, who was found helpless in her home after an attempt had evidently been made to kill her.

Mrs. Gardner, wife of a Yale graduate and statistician, was discovered bound with strips of muslin and her head wrapped in a bandage in her home. According to her story, she was followed by two men, who forced her at the point of a revolver into the house, bound her and then set her bed on fire. The men then escaped by crawling out of a window and broke the glass with her feet to attract attention. The fire was put out when neighbors burst into the building.

British Peer Bus Boy in a Hotel

By International News Service.

San Francisco, Oct. 17.—Charles Sargent, after his boy is a reformer here for the last six months, and a good job now as a bus boy, has assumed his rightful station in life as Sir Charles Sargent, British peer, owner of an estate in England, a title and heavy income.

Sir Charles broke to his employer the news that one job as a bus boy was vacant.

Sir Charles's parents left almost home when he was a baby. He was reared by an aunt in San Francisco. Sir Charles's father, mother, wife and child live in some section in Italy and became a wanderer, see how he decided to seek recognition in more congenial surroundings. At 21 he took a job at a bus boy. He is returning home soon and according to his own announcement, no more for Charles is forty-six years old.

GOT LICKED AND THEN GOT JAILED

Haughton at the Helm Goes in as Active Head

Harvard football has again passed into the hands of the man who made it synonymous with Eastern gridiron supremacy. Percy D. Haughton, relieved temporarily of his duties as president of the Braves, has taken full command of the Crimson gridiron forces and stands to rise or fall with the team and its fortunes during the remainder of the season.

Haughton has been with the squad about a week, but has done only individual coaching, Field Coach Leo H. Leary having had full control of the reins.

Haughton warmed the bench Saturday and saw the Crimson easily defeat North Carolina, coached by "Tommy" Campbell, one of the big Chief's old pupils.

With Haughton in command, Harvard's football prospects should continue on the rise. Haughton is a firm disciplinarian, a man of his type is needed to round the several favorable Crimson football units into one powerful football force that cannot be denied.

Leary will resume his old job as field coach and will share the burden with Haughton in turning out the team. Leary has no peer in developing ends, and each season has placed a pair of wing-men on the varsity eleven.

With Soucy in Le Gore, Princeton and ex-Briggs and Tibbets, and Cornell with its Schwenk, Harvard has a pair set with almost insurmountable difficulties if it is to plod its way through to a successful season, to say nothing about having a finger in the Intercollegiate championship title.

It has been intimated that Haughton would do well to stay out of the Crimson fold, as this is to be a heavier Stadiumwards, but just as soon as he could lay aside his diamond cares he rushed to Soldiers Field to throw himself into the breach.

Harvard's hospital squad has been decreased by two, Tackles Homer Sweetser and George Caner being discharged. The pair worked in the varsity rushline during the short signal drill, which closed the afternoon's work.

Clark, the 208-pound guard, is still laid up, and it is very doubtful if he will be able to play before the Cornell contest.

The same holds true of Tom Thacher, "Hank" Fisher, and "Herb" Bond, and, while Moose Taylor may be in readiness to go the Aggie game Saturday, the coaches may prefer to withhold him until a week later.

CLEVELAND'S SON IS ON TIGERS' SQUAD

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 17.—Richard Cleveland, son of ex-President Grover Cleveland, has joined Princeton's football squad and is a candidate for a backfield berth. He prepared for Princeton at Exeter Academy, where he gained fame as a shot-putter.

HOWARD MILLER IS LOST TO COLUMBIA

New York, Oct. 17.—A big surprise and disappointment has come to the football fans of Columbia, with the announcement that Howard Miller, the sensational quarterback, will not be able to play again this year.

Miller has water on the knee. Raimondo, Detroit, has the task of guiding the Columbia eleven through the rest of the season.

O'Neil to Direct Eastern League

Worcester, Oct. 17.—Daniel O'Neil of Hartford, Ct., was elected president and secretary of the Eastern Baseball League at its annual meeting in this city. He succeeds T. H. Murnane of Boston as president.

Thomas A. O'Brien, also of Hartford, was elected treasurer, and directors were chosen as follows: James Clarkin, Hartford; Edward F. Smith, Worcester; William E. Carey, Springfield; H. Eugene Morgan, New London, and Eugene B. Fraser, Lynn.

Nearly all club owners openly expressed themselves in favor of an eight-club league for 1915.

Hugh Duffy, owner of the Portland club, announced, after the meeting that his franchise was for sale, salary claim of $200 against the Lawrence club, held by Jesse Burkett, former manager, was paid by the league.

Tellier Winner of Pro. Tourney

Louis Tellier, County Club, Brookline, won first honors in the professional tournament at the Winchester Country Club, from a field of twenty-four golfers. Tellier scored 157 for first two rounds, which was five strokes better than Michael J. Brady, Oakley winner of second place.

Third position was won by George Bowden, Tedesco, who finished four strokes behind Brady. H. M. Andrews, Metropolitan, was fourth, with 174.

Tellier led after the first eighteen holes had been played, by three strokes. In second place were Brady, Bowden, Fred Wannamaker, Andrews and Percy Haughton, all tied with 83.

Tellier just eighteen holes the Brookline professional played great golf, while Brady and Bowden weakened. Tellier scored a thirty-eight for his last nine, or a seventy-eight for the last eighteen holes. Brady had a seventy-one against eighty-three and Gordon eighty-seven.

DE PALMA IN BIG EVENT.

New York, Oct. 17.—Ralph De Palma will probably be a contestant in the 300-mile Harkness trophy at the Sheepshead Bay track October 28. It is said that a Packard twin six is to be the car to be driven by the speed king.

B. C. Is Crippled for Tufts Game

Tierney, Boston College varsity tackle, who suffered a wrenched knee in the New Hampshire game, will be missing from Brickley's line-up in the Tufts battle Saturday.

This is the fifth serious loss the Maroon and Gold has suffered this year. The pack suffered the other five, one operation for appendicitis a few hours before the Dartmouth clash, Captain Vic Mooney, the 1915 centre, and one of Brickley's strong men, broke his hand, McKenna and Regan, varsity backfield men, as well as Tierney, were placed on the injured list last week. Murray and Sullivan are out of the game for the rest of the season, while Tierney, Regan and McKenna are lost to Boston College for the Tufts contest.

Brickley struck out several new plays in yesterday's practice. A stiff scrimmage with the Boston College High eleven wound up the work.

Jack Hardigan, who captained the Maroon and Gold in 1913, is one of Brickley's few assets. He was given charge of the second team and will remain as one of the assistant coaches until the end of the season.

Tufts' Cripples in Bad Shape

Tufts warriors rested after their strenuous exertions of Saturday, but today the team will again be called out to keep in condition for the game next Saturday with Boston College.

Very little opposition is expected from Brickley's team next week, and Whelan will probably start his second team in the fray. With the first-string men in their present crippled condition, and the all-important game with Indiana only twelve days distant, Head Coach Whelan's is not taking any chances on having any of his star performers in the hospital when the Hoosiers arrive.

Indiana is reputed to have a strong, well-balanced team, and they are looking on the Tufts game as the big battle of the season. With this prospect before them it is doubtful if many of the Brown and Blue stars will expose themselves to injury in the game against Brickley's players.

Quarterback Drummey and Right End Jochim are doing nicely, although it is doubtful whether they will be in uniform again in time for the game with Indiana.

Drummey is hardly able to walk much less play football, and Jochim has the ligaments of his right shoulder badly torn.

Captain Wescott, with his body taped from shoulder to hips, is still suffering from injuries received in the Harvard game, and the rough handling he got in the Tiger camp has not aided his recovery any.

WINDSOR (CT.) RACES.

Windsor, Ct., Oct. 17.—A four-day harness horse meeting begins at Base Park today. There are upwards of 100 horses quartered at the course, embracing many speedy ones. The July meeting held here was a big success and this session is expected to eclipse it.

WEINERT GO ON AGAIN.

New York, Oct. 17.—That on-again-off-again Charlie Weinert-Bob Moha match is on again—may be. The promoters today announced it would be staged here on October 31. Twice before the bout has been postponed.

BLAIR TO COACH PITT.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 17.—Walter A. Blair, former catcher for the New York Yankees, has signed up to coach the baseball candidates for the University of Pittsburgh 1917 nine.

L. H. HAS AN OPEN DATE.

Athletic Director Walter A. Sidley of Lawrence High School writes the AMERICAN stating that October 25 is an open date on the eleven's schedule and that a reasonable guarantee will be given to whatever high school team accepts the booking.

TODAY'S SCHOOL GAMES.

English High vs. Cambridge Latin at Cambridge.
Arlington High vs. Belmont High at Belmont.
East Boston High vs. Dorchester High, on Dunbar Avenue Grounds.

BOWLING

The St. George's Bowling League of Boston has just begun a twenty-six weeks' schedule. This season, as in the past, the directors offer an unusually attractive list of prizes, amounting to $100.50. Of this $82.50 goes as team prizes and the remainder will be awarded to individuals.

All matches will be rolled on the New Boston Alleys. The schedule:

Oct. 20-Jan. 26—Gen. Havelock vs. St. George A. A.; Commander Geo. Kensington, John Bright vs. Victory, Duke of Wellington vs. Hearts of Oak, Rudyard Kipling vs. Commonwealth vs. Cabot, Garfield vs. Mystic.

Jan. 19—Garfield vs. Cabot, Gen. Havelock vs. Victoria, Commandery vs. St. George A. A., Victory vs. Commonwealth, John Bright vs. Kensington, Rudyard Kipling vs. Hearts of Oak, Duke of Wellington vs. Mystic.

Two of New England's leading women bowlers, Mrs. Victoria Herricks of Lynn and Miss Emily Rhoades of Allston, will meet in a ten-string candlepin match on the Boston Loop alleys tomorrow night.

EXETER CREW MEN OUT.

Exeter, N. H., Oct. 16.—Forty hustlers reported to Coach Corning at the first call for Exeter crew candidates. Of last year's eight, every member save P. E. Martin is now in school, and there seems to be promising new material.

AMHERST IN A BAD WAY.

Amherst, Oct. 17.—Only eleven men reported for practice on Pratt Field, Fraternityless, who played in the line against Brown, is out with a bad knee. Widmayer, one of Amherst's few dependable linesmen, is suffering from a badly cut hand.

Ends at Cornell Are Erratic

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The first of the Monday blackboard talks and lectures was given to the Cornell football squad at Schoellkopf Hall by Head Coach Sharpe. The varsity team was given a well-earned rest, the men getting only a light drill.

End Coach Van Norman is the busiest man in the hall with his problem of getting two good ends in shape for the Harvard game. Neither position is settled.

Zanzler may prove the best man for right end, but thus far neither Ryerson, Ellenberger, Hoff nor Ensworth has shown any kind of speed in getting down under kicks.

Two Green Stars Are Disabled

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 17.—Trier and Duhamel, two of Dartmouth's stars, may not be able to play at Haverhill Saturday against Georgetown. Both players are out with injuries, which detract considerably from their strength of the team.

Trier has been a very consistent performer at tackle, while Duhamel is one of the trio of backs who have played together since their freshman year.

He has been suffering with a bad muscle bruise and instead of becoming better, the injury seems to have reached the chronic stage.

The game with the Aggies last Saturday, despite the 82-0 score, was a disappointment to the coaches. The playing of the line was about the poorest of the year so far.

TIGERS TO DROP TUFTS

Objection to Negro Players Assigned as Reason for Move by Princeton Management

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 17.—Tufts is likely to be dropped from the Princeton football schedule, according to a report current here today. It is said that the local authorities object to negro players and inasmuch as the Massachusetts college used two colored men Saturday she is down to lose her place on the Tiger list.

A number of Southerners attend Princeton, and this is the reason assigned for the objection to colored players.

Tufts had two Saturday, Morrison, a guard, and Brown, a tackle. Neither of these players were abused.

Between halves, however, Morrison suffered from convulsions, but neither he nor the Tufts men said it was due to any feeling against his color.

Morrison played through the second half, while Brown's only complaint during the game was his protest to the officials because of the language used toward him.

Joseph Murray, treasurer of the Princeton Athletic Association, in a statement tonight said that "as far as can be learned," there will be no changes in the schedule of the Princeton football team because of the development of a case of infantile paralysis among the student body.

"The Dartmouth game will be played," the statement said, "and it is almost certain that the Lafayette game will be played as scheduled. Untrue statements to the effect that a quarantine has been placed on the university resulted in many inquiries at the athletic association office asking if there were to be any changes in the schedule."

HARVARD HARRIERS DOWN TO MEET TECH

The Harvard cross country team will hold a dual race with Technology on the Harvard course in Belmont Saturday morning of Saturday, Oct. 23.—A race has also been arranged for the freshmen for next Saturday morning on the cemetery course in Brighton. The Providence Technology team is to furnish the opposition.

Harry Barwise of the B. A. A. and champion New England high jumper is to assist in coaching Harvard's jumpers during the present week.

VAN IS LED BY 1915 PILOT

Van Nostrand Back at Quarterback for the Blue—Callahan Supplants Taft at Centre.

New Haven, Ct., Oct. 17.—Only two Yale regulars, Ends Cates and Comerford, reported for scrimmage. Three touchdowns were registered, two by Jim Braden, who was removed from fullback to left halfback.

Braden's short line-plunges were the best ground-gaining features of the matinee. Church, at end, scored the third touchdown after catching a forward pass from Neville late in the second half.

Callahan, regarded as the first string centre rush when the season opened, returned to his position, and showed star form. Rosenee, former end, was shifted to right guard, and Charley Taft, who played centre Saturday, went to tackle.

Howell Van Nostrand, regular quarterback last season, ran the eleven for the first time in several weeks.

After ten days' practice on old Yale Field, the eleven returned to the Bowl, where Friday's game will be played with Virginia. Polytechnic Institute. Jack Cates and Douglas Bomeistar joined the visiting coaches.

DADMUN IS GOING AFTER RING HONORS

Harris H. Dadmun, Harvard's big football captain, is to join the boxing team at Harvard after the gridiron season is tolled off. The big Crimson leader weighs over 200 pounds and is more than six feet tall, possessing an ideal build for a boxer. He is to join Henry Allen's stable of college "pugs" and make a try for the heavyweight championship at the Harvard boxing tournament the coming Winter.

HUTCHINSON IS FIRST IN.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 17.—"Jock" Hutchinson, Allegheny Country Club, won the open golf championship of the State. His score was 148 for 36 holes. J. R. Crookston, Stanton Heights, was second with 149, and Robert McDonald, Buffalo, N. Y., third, with 150.

B. C. TOSSERS HONORED.

Britton Is 5-4 Favorite Arguing Over Referee

By RINGSIDE.

Ted (Kid) Lewis, the lanky, larruping Londoner, who has always experienced splendid fortune in the Armory A. A. ring, and Jack Britton of New York, possessor of the welterweight title, start their 1916-1917 season of encounters going at the Arena tonight. Judged on their two shows here a year ago, Lewis has a little something on Britton. But elsewhere around this broad land the Yankee battler has always shaded the bouncing Britisher.

Their 1915-1916 campaign culminated in the pair clashing over the Derby route of twenty rounds to a referee's decision in New Orleans. Britton outjabbed and outstepped Lewis and was proclaimed the victor Hence, the title became his property.

Britton has been ruling a slight favorite over Lewis ever since their fight tonight was built. The odds have remained close to the even-money notch; in fact, nothing pudgier than 5 to 4 has been laid. Ted has plenty of admirers and the indications are the price will be practically even money when the two battlers line up.

A CATCHWEIGHT AFFAIR.

It's to be a catchweight affair which doubtless wipes out the championship tinge to the encounter, though, should Lewis be declared the winner it's a leadpipe, copper-riveted cinch that Manager Jimmie Johnston, his manager, claims the title.

'A good showman, one of the best, in the abbreviated New York sporting man. He's got exactly as many children as Comedian Eddie Foy—nine—and nine—es cannot afford to overlook any chances to bust into the spotlight.

There promises to be a lot of lively arguing during the day before it is definitely settled just who will referee. Manager Mike Murray of the Triple-A stated this morning that the club was holding out for a Boston man.

POWERS MAY RUN BOUT.

"We prefer Larry Conley or Maffett Flaherty, who have been running our bouts of late months," stated Murray to the AMERICAN, "but if Danny Morgan, Britton's manager, holds out for Phil Powers, and that officio' is satisfactory to Johnston, we will be satisfied. However, we will not allow any New York referee to work unless we absolutely cannot control the rival managers."

Beth Conley and Powers are qualified to handle the Britton-Lewis mixup—or any other Queensberry production, for that matter. With either man the final pick the fans will be satisfied. The luckless Delaney also looms up as a superb selection to anything New York can nominate. As regards poundage, Maffitt is plenty heavy enough for the job, but somehow or other the big fellow is an exasperatingly erratic picker. Hence, none too popular with the fans, especially with the betting set.

NUMBER ALWAYS PLEASES.

Britton and Lewis, though already having boxed some seventy-five rounds, have never disappointed. It's no brother affair. Far from it! Both are topliners, the best of their weight in the world, and old Pop Dope has got to be dealt a solepleasing mixup for their combat to prove a fixture.

The entire card smacks of good action. In the semi-final Johnny Lavery, a local recruit, who sometimes steps at a mighty lively pace, and Tony Vatlan of Brighton will clash. This may, or may not, be a whale of a battle.

However, the two-ess youngsters are bound to please. Pat Owens and Joe Stanton, both of Cambridge, can be relied upon delivering, while the curtain-raiser, which brings together Johnny Murray and "Battling" Downey, ought to satisfy.

ARMORY A. A. PROGRAM.

GREEN ON WITH NEW RIVAL

Georgetown Eleven Will Oppose Dartmouth at Dedication of New Haverhill Stadium Saturday

Haverhill, Oct. 17—All Haverhill is "dressing up" to receive the husky football elevens of Dartmouth and Georgetown which clash here Saturday. The game, which will be played at the new Stadium, will be witnessed by a record break ing crowd, as the event is being boomed by every civic organization in the city.

Football enthusiasts realize that when noted elevens, such as represent Dartmouth and Georgetown, clash, there is sure to be plenty of thrilling moments and an abundance of high class football. Consequently, large crowds are expected to come from all parts of New England.

Exceptional interest is added to the game, also, by the fact that the Haverhill boys are with the Georgetown squad. John Hilarer, picked last year as an All-Southern halfback, is improving wonderfully in form since the Navy game and indications are he will play the game of his career in his home town.

TWO NEW ENGLAND BOYS.

Edward Connell, captain of last years Haverhill eleven, and Lawrence Greene formerly an end with Exeter, are members of the Georgetown squad.

Duhamel of Lawrence is a prominent member of the Dartmouth team. They there are several other Greater Boston boys with both teams.

There will be parking space for 3,000 machines and the directors of the Haverhill High School athletic field have made provision to care for the crowd with the least possible confusion.

Special trains will run from Boston and as the crowd is coming from all points of the compass Haverhill is certain to be jammed.

The game will mark the new Stadium. While none of the high school games have been played there, no game has been held with the complete stands and equipment built.

AN IDEAL STADIUM.

The stands run up twenty-five tiers and the splendidly-graded five-acre field is enclosed with an eight-foot concrete fence. The field includes a separate diamond and gridiron, running track, stands, showers baths and dressing rooms. Later it is planned to develop tennis courts and a swimming pool.

The field was made possible by public subscriptions and the co-operation of the Municipal Council, which leased the land to the holding company.

The Dartmouth-Georgetown game was originally scheduled to be played in Hanover, but the management of both colleges finally assented to the change to Haverhill.

The Stadium is located on Lincoln avenue, about ten minutes east of the transfer station on the main highway to Groveland and Newburyport, and runs parallel with the Merrimack River.

JABS AND JOLTS

KANSAS CITY agrees to turn out a $7,500 house for tomorrow night's ten-round bout between Jack Harrison and Benny Leonard. Harrison is a big favorite as a result of his knockout over Lang but Lang's Johnny Dundee favor him.

HARRY CARLSON of Rockaway, New Rochelle new lightweight champion, and Larry Hanson of Brooklyn, are to box ten rounds at the Commercial A. C. in Jersey City Friday night. Al Murray is bringing Hanson on from Boston. Carlson and Kingsley did a week ago.

AL MURRAY has added another Dahl, ex-European middleweight, to his string. He considers Dahl a wallop and is anxious to show us how it is.

IT IS Manager Artie Powers claim that Jack Dillon, who boxes Jim O'Neil, Brooklyn, tonight, is in their best condition since they gave him a start.

DAVE BENJAMIN, the new manager of Cambridge ring, parted from his first comeback. He starts with Billy West at Cambridge Nov. 27. And is confident he will show his old form.

MIKE O'DOWD the St. Paul welterweight, who hasn't been in the ring since losing to Jack Britton here last Spring, has been matched to meet Billy Weeks, Canada's champion, in Minneapolis at the show Harry Sherman will put on after pulling off the Gibbons Dillon mess.

TONY VATLAN has been substituted for Curley Hume against Johnny Emery in tonight's semi-final event at the Arena. Hume is ticketed to go on with Joe Morgan at Gloucester.

$250,000,000 BRITISH LOAN FROM U. S.

By International News Service.

New York, Oct. 17.—A new $250,000,000 British loan will be floated in this country within the next few weeks. The loan will be a direct obligation of the British government, and probably will be officially announced shortly before or after election.

The preliminary negotiations between the bankers in this country in connection with the loans have been practically completed, and the plan is now understood to await only official approval by the British government.

The terms of the new credit will be practically the same as in the last $250,000,000 British loan, which was floated in August. It will be backed by American securities and other foreign securities. The present loan is the rule and the price at which it will be offered to the public, it is understood, will be similar to that of the last British loan. That loan was offered at the rate of per cent. It was offered for subscription at 95 and underwritten at 93. The yield on that loan was a little better than 5½ per cent.

CONCORD HAS FIRST INFANTILE CASE

Concord, N. H., Oct. 17.—The two-year-old daughter of James Thurston, a carpenter employed at St. Paul's school, proves to be the first case of infantile paralysis discovered here. The diagnosis of local physicians has been confirmed by Dr. St. Lawrence of Newburgh, an infantile paralysis expert at St. Paul's School.

PRICES SOAR IN BIG BULL MARKET

Bullish activity on the New York stock exchange was resumed today and to noon prices were not only generally higher, but several were at high records.

The high records were American Smelting and Refining 107½, Western Union 114¾ and General Motors 790, the latter being the highest price ever obtained for a share, excepting Northern Pacific's single quotation of 1000.

Trading indicated a complete restoration of the confidence upset by the Labor activities more than a week ago. Bonds were quite forgotten, and many traders expressed the opinion that the election, usually a speculative factor, would be but lightly considered in view of the tremendous earnings now being piled up about every railroad and industrial.

STEEL IS STRONG.

Interest did not centre in any particular stock, first one stock attracting attention and then another. United States Steel showed its greatest strength while eased by advancing a point to 113⅝. Later it forfeited all this gain, but at noon was unchanged.

Important gains at noon included American Sugar 1½ points, American Can 1½, New York Air Brake 1½, Western Union 3⅜, Colorado Fuel and Iron 2, Republic Iron & Steel 2, American Car & Foundry 2, Southern Railway 1 and Industrial Alcohol 2.

Profit-taking sales caused losses of a point or more in Crucible Steel, Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies, Industrial Alcohol and Mexican Petroleum.

BOSTON IRREGULAR.

The Boston market was irregular at noon. Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies was after specials with a record price of 97, weakened and showed a loss.

South Lake was a feature for strength, selling up 3½ points. Tamarack was the strongest copper, up 1½. Other price changes were mostly fractional.

THE NEW YORK, NEW HAVEN AND HARTFORD RAILROAD COMPANY.

New Haven, Connecticut, October 3, 1916.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS:

Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company will be held at the office of the Company in the City of New Haven, Connecticut, on Wednesday, the 25th day of October, 1916, at 12 o'clock noon, for the following purposes:

To consider and take appropriate action upon the Annual Statement and all acts described therein of the Board of Directors.

To authorize an issue of not to exceed $70,000,000 face value of ten-year 6 per cent. debentures containing an agreement that the corporation will not create any mortgage upon its property unless these debentures will be equally and ratably secured thereby, and that the corporation will not create any additional debentures unless the holders of the debentures now outstanding shall consent and agree to the issue of such additional debentures to be used for the purpose of acquiring additional railroad and other properties to the City of New Haven, Connecticut, on October 1, 1916, or thereafter, within two years.

To transact any other business which properly comes before said meeting.

The purpose of closing the transfer books of the Company will be stated from time to time by notices published in the Boston daily papers.

By order of the Board of Directors.

ARTHUR E. CLARK, Secretary.

American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Co.

The Directors of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Company have declared a regular quarterly dividend of one dollar and sixty cents ($1.60) per share on the preferred capital stock, payable November 1, 1916, to stockholders of record October 25, 1916. S. E. FARWELL, Treasurer.

MIRIDA KRESLIN, four years old, who mourns loss of parrot which flew away and speaks only Russian.

GIRL WEEPS FOR POLLY SPEAKING ONLY SLAVIC

Have you a strange parrot in your home?

Has it a strange head, a red breast and a white head, with little spots of yellow on each side of its neck?

If it understands no English and only answers to you when you question it in your very best and most polite Russian, then it is without doubt the parrot that belongs to Mrs. MIRIDA KRESLIN of No. 101 Hampshire street, Roxbury.

The parrot, the pet of the family, has been lost since Sunday, and great is the grief of the Kreslin household since Polly flew away.

LITTLE GIRL WEEPS.

Little Mirdza, four years old, face-to-haired and blue-eyed, has wept herself almost sick over the loss of her pet. She cried and screamed on Sunday when Polly flew away, and her sobs continued unabated last night. The Sandman came around.

Her first thought this morning was of her lost pet, and the tears have flowed almost continually since. But the Mirdza like her parrot, speaks almost no English, and the two playfellows were most happy and congenial when they spoke the Russian tongue that is used in the province of Riga, from which the family came.

FEARS FOR POLLY.

Mrs. Kreslin, mother of the family, is almost as grief-stricken as is her pretty baby.

"I cried and cried," she confessed, "when Polly flew out of the window, and I know we cannot get her back again, and for myself I do not care, but I think he will be sick and starve to death if no one gets him who cannot talk to him.

"How will he know what Polly wants, Polly only knows English, but says everything else, like we do, in our low tongue. It is that Polly should be returned to her home. If it happens that she has flown in your window. The rubber plant is waiting for her to perch upon, and a wicker cage is waiting over the roofs, waiting and watching, hoping that the Polly that flew away so suddenly may fly home again in the same manner.

NO SUBSTITUTE.

Mrs. Kreslin states that Mirdza's father says he will buy her another parrot—but she wants only Polly. She will pay a reward for the return of the pet and do it willingly, but it is only Polly that can fill the vacant place in the Kreslin home.

Mrs. Kreslin is a blonde of an unusually striking type, her small head almost covered with wide flaxen braids. She has been in this country about ten years, but still speaks with a pretty broken English that is a source of Russian, and which is a favorite in the different lodges around Boston, where she has taken part in many amateur theatricals.

POLICE BATTLE STRIKERS AT BAYONNE

By International News Service.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 17.—After a night of unrestrained firing by snipers, rioting growing out of the Standard oil strike, was renewed early today. Two pitched battles were fought between the strikers and police and another attempt was made to set fire to the Tidewater Plant.

A crisis in the strike is looked for today when representatives of the idle employes are to call upon the Standard Oil Company officials at the company's offices. The committee has no authority to call off the strike, but will report any agreement.

The strikers have split into two factions—those who are willing to aid in bringing about a peaceful settlement and those who are resolved to force the companies to meet their terms.

The first battle today occurred at 3 a. m., when more than 100 strikers made a drive for the New Jersey Central Viaduct. Upon gaining the top they let loose a fusillade of revolver shots against about a dozen special policemen.

One bullet went through Policeman Lynch's hat. The officers returned the fire, but no one was hit. Three arrests were made.

A little later more than a score of strikers made an attack on special Policemen Brown and Traites. They escaped injury. This was the second attack upon them within twelve hours. The two officers are credited with fourteen arrests.

Conferences looking towards a settlement began here this morning. A committee of the strikers met George E. Hennessy, general superintendent of the Standard Oil Company.

Mr Hennessy said would be impossible for the company to grant the wage scale demanded by the strikers. William Melcher, chairman of the strikers' committee said the employes would not "recede an inch."

BOSTON GIRL LOST SINCE SEPTEMBER 10

New York, Oct. 17.—Relatives of Helen Gertrude Fullerton, a thirteen-year-old girl of Roxbury, Mass., have arrived in this city in search for her. She has been missing since September 10. Her father found a note from her saying that she was bound for Canada with a wealthy woman as caretaker of her two children.

Massachusetts Needs a Man Like Douglas in the National Senate

THE declaration of ex-Governor Douglas in favor of President Wilson's domestic policies is very interesting and important to the people of Massachusetts and the United States.

Ex-Governor Douglas is one of the greatest business men in America. He has passed through every stage of business development to the top. The conduct of his business has required experience in almost every line of business, and his experience in public life has included practically every office within the gift of an American State.

It is said that more than 3,000,000 persons stand in the shoes which he makes. He preceded Henry Ford by more than a quarter of a century in the successful method of recognizing the MAN in labor and discarding the theory that workmen are just machines and are subject merely to the law of supply and demand like any inanimate commodity.

So it means a great deal when a man like Mr. Douglas approves of the Federal Reserve Act passed by the Wilson administration, of which he says:

"I consider that the greatest piece of constructive legislation in the history of American business. . . . It will be of the greatest help in opening up the markets of the world. We can really do business with South America now; before we could not. It will increase our business enormously. But more important than that even, it became operative just in time to save our country from a disastrous financial panic. Previous to the passage of the Federal Reserve Act, the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company had to pay 7 per cent. interest for money. Since that time plenty of money can be had for from 3 to 4 per cent. This law has been a great benefit to all the business men of the country and is the principal factor in the great prosperity which this country is now enjoying."

This is the declaration by one of America's leading men, who has a tremendous personal stake in the business prosperity of the country. Mr. Douglas asks, "What started prosperity?" He replies to his own question thus:

"The Federal Reserve Act and the Federal Trade Commission Act. This commission is intended to serve as the expert business agent of the government, to deal with business situations and disputes. It aims to clear the way for all legitimate trade enterprises. The small man in business now has equal protection with the large and financially more powerful competitors. This Trade Commission, in connection with the Clayton Act, gives ALL business an open field. Hereafter there will be no occasion for "trust-busting," because every manufacturer knows just what he can do in conducting a legitimate business. He will not be afraid of being hauled into court because his business is large and prosperous. I believe that the Federal Trade Commission Act—with the Clayton Act—is the keynote to and opened the way for permanent prosperity in this country."

Of the Rural Credits Act, which is a law to enable the farmers to borrow money as cheaply as big business can borrow it, Mr. Douglas said: "What's good for the farmer is good for business." He declares that the Rural Credits Act is already showing its good results in his business among the farmers in the West.

Of the so-called Eight-Hour Law which President Wilson recommended, ex-Governor Douglas says: "It is the only thing that the President could have done." On this very important law Mr. Douglas continues:

"The law is founded on correct principle and is bound to prevail. Perhaps all people do not realize the great service President Wilson rendered the country by putting the eight-hour question squarely up to Congress. Their action prevented a great railroad strike. If Congress had not settled the strike in this way I believe that most of the industries throughout this country would have soon had to close. In my factory, two days previous to the passage of the Eight-Hour Law, we were not able to ship any goods owing to the embargo placed on all freight. The necessaries of life would have advanced in price and famine and mobs would have been rampant throughout the land."

He discusses also the Tariff Commission passed under the Wilson administration, which he declares will take the tariff out of politics.

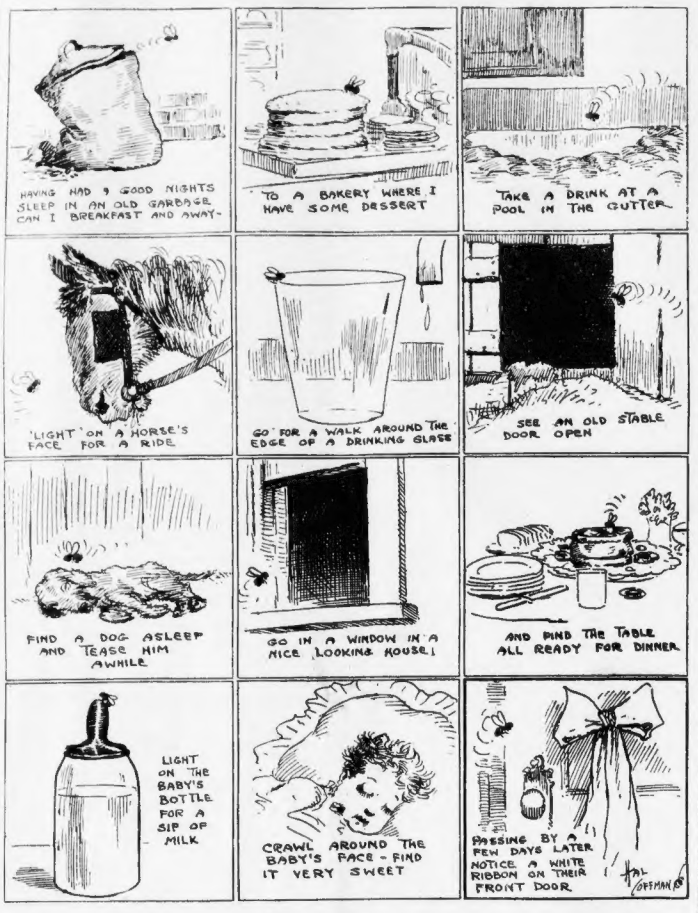
In reply to the argument that there will be a terrible panic after the war he says: "Shucks! I take no stock in that bogie."

Would that ex-Governor Douglas had listened to the unanimous appeal which the progressives of all parties in Massachusetts made to him to enter the arena against that arch-priest of American reactionaries and stand-patters, Henry Cabot Lodge. The AMERICAN says this without reference to the question whether or not ex-Governor Douglas is right in believing that President Wilson ought to be re-elected. While the AMERICAN detests many of the foreign policies of the Wilson administration, this newspaper praises the domestic reforms which the administration has achieved in three short, turbulent years.

Massachusetts ought to be represented in the Senate by a man who represents the views of the majority of her citizens, like Mr. Douglas, and not by one who represents the very small minority of special interests, like Mr. Lodge.

EXTERMINATE THE FLY

It Is a Carrier of Infantile Paralysis



HAVING HAD 9 GOOD NIGHTS SLEEP IN AN OLD GARBAGE CAN I BREAKFAST AND AWAY-
TO A BAKERY WHERE I HAVE SOME DESSERT
TAKE A DRINK AT A POOL IN THE GUTTER
'LIGHT' ON A HORSE'S FACE FOR A RIDE
GO FOR A WALK AROUND THE EDGE OF A DRINKING GLASS
SEE AN OLD STABLE DOOR OPEN
FIND A DOG ASLEEP AND TEASE HIM AWHILE
GO IN A WINDOW IN A NICE LOOKING HOUSE!
AND FIND THE TABLE ALL READY FOR DINNER
LIGHT ON THE BABY'S BOTTLE FOR A SIP OF MILK
CRAWL AROUND THE BABY'S FACE - FIND IT VERY SWEET
PASSING BY A FEW DAYS LATER NOTICE A WHITE RIBBON ON THEIR FRONT DOOR
HAL HOFFMAN

IT is officially announced at Johns Hopkins Hospital, which is one of the greatest medical institutions in the world, that the mystery surrounding the cause of the spread of infantile paralysis has been solved.

According to Dr. Horace T. Burrows, pathologist of the hospital, the disease is not spread by contagion, but the germ is introduced into the human system THROUGH THE MOUTH in milk and water.

Dr. Burrows and his assistant investigators find that HOUSE FLIES AND OTHER INSECTS UNDOUBTEDLY HELP TO SPREAD THE GERM FROM ONE FOOD TO ANOTHER.

Boil or cook, say the investigators, all raw foods, such as milk, water, fruits, etc.

And EXTERMINATE THE FLY.

Kill every fly you can find NOW. Says Dr. Woods Hutchinson: "Any fly which your eye happens to light on in this month of October is almost certain to be a fertilized female seeking shelter where she may manage to survive Winter's cold in a dormant condition, waking up to buzz forth and deposit her eggs at the first warm days of Spring. She is literally one of a few hundred, often even of a few dozen, survivors from the myriad hosts of the Summer; upon whose life absolutely depends the reappearance of fresh thousands in the Spring."

Every fly that lives over the Winter will leave descendants who may carry death to hundreds of children next Summer. Hunt out the flies NOW and KILL THEM.

Man's Fear of Seeming "Effeminate" Is Silly, Says Dorothy Dix

Most Men Would Be Better if They Did Have a Few of the Finer Traits of Women, Says Noted Writer, for Many of the World's Famous Heroes Were Great Just Because They Had Qualities That Were Characteristically Feminine

By Dorothy Dix

THE ultimate insult to a man is to call him an "old woman." He would rather you applied every other vituperative epithet in the whole category of abuse to him. Even among little boys the fighting word is "Sissy" or "Lizzy."

Women share in this feeling of antipathy to anything that even smacks of the woman in man. It is what makes the big, coarse-fibred type of brute so fascinating to many women, and it is what makes her raise her sons up to be hoodlums.

"I don't want my boys to grow up into being Miss Nancies," say the mothers, and so the lads are indulged in all of their natural savagery. As soon as a girl is old enough to understand anything, she is taught that she must try to make herself charming to other people, that she must study the things that will refine and cultivate her tastes.

No such lesson is impressed on the boy. He is permitted a brusqueness in conversation, a slovenliness in dress, and a lack of manners that would not be tolerated an instant in the girl, and his mother excuses it on the ground of his sex and as a proof of how manly he is. And, in truth, good manners and cleanliness are so solely the monopoly of little girls that we have all come to think that a well-mannered little boy is effeminate.

Other mothers seem to think it will make their boys effeminate to perform household duties. We all know poor, tired, overworked women who slave over the cookstove and washtub while their sons, ten times as able to work as they are, develop their manliness and muscle playing baseball. Mother will work until she drops in her tracks before she will demean her boys by making them sweep and wash dishes and make beds and do women's work about a house.

Yet, can anyone in their senses esteem a boy less manly for helping his mother? On the contrary, if it is to lighten the burden of her who has borne so much for him, does not the humble dishrag in his hands become so knightly a symbol as the colors the warriors of old pinned on their helmets when they went out to do battle for their ladies?

Lots of Men Are Not Too "Virile and Strong" to Let Women Support Them

Certainly it is no more effeminate for a boy to get up and get breakfast for his mother than it is for him to cook dinner on a camping expedition, and if more boys were brought up in the admonition of this truth, we should have fewer lazy loafers being supported by their poor old mothers. There are plenty of men too proud to work at what they consider women's work, but not too proud to let a woman work to feed and clothe them.

As a matter of fact, in our fear of effeminacy we are like children frightened of the bugaboo their imagination has conjured up. Why should it be thought any degradation to the august masculine character to have feminine traits? Why is it such a disgrace for a man to be thought to be like a woman in any particular?

Every great preacher, every great writer, every great artist, every great actor, every great philosopher and teacher has been more than half feminine in his mental makeup. It is when God gives a man a woman's intuition and fineness of perceptions and delicate imagination in addition to his masculinity that He turns out a genius.

Also we women know many things that men would be the better for being taught. We bring up our boys in utter ignorance of everything domestic because we are so afraid of making them effeminate, yet that makes them the victims of every female with whom they have to deal.

No man can even intelligently argue a question of household economy with his wife because he doesn't know anything about it. She says it costs so and so to live, and that the children must have this and that. He may see that the net result is bankruptcy and ruin, but he doesn't know where the leaks are so that he can stop them. He can only offer the futile protest of ignorance to her waste and extravagance.

Men would also be benefited if their education included some elementary knowledge of color and material. We hear a great deal of the color blindness of men. In most cases it is nothing but ignorance. A man would certainly be no less manly and he would be a far more satisfactory husband or son if he was cultivated along this line.

If Husbands Had a Few of the Feminine Talents It Would Smooth Out Life

The majority of women will bear me out when I say that among the most agonizing moments of our lives have been those awful occasions when our husbands have brought us home a new dress or hat as a present, or had the house papered in our absence as a surprise. A drawing room papered in gilt like a bar room, a bonnet of last year's vintage that the milliner had unloaded upon him, a green gown when we have a complexion like a saleratus biscuit.

Such were the results. Dear fellow, and he meant so well. So we choke down our disappointment and breathe a prayer, "Lord forgive him, for he knows not what he does," when he goes a shopping.

Another thing—just think how much it would gild matrimony and do away with its monotony if husbands possessed the feminine talent of small conversation, and also if they had the gift of telling news. Did you ever think what a dull and silent world this would be if we depended on men to do the talking? It's the women who make the pleasant little interesting chit-chat about the house.

Of course men say this is because they don't gossip, but I have yet to meet the man who didn't like to hear the news just as well as any woman, and who didn't feel personally aggrieved if his wife knew any she kept from him.

We women are not too conceited to learn from men, or to try to imitate their good qualities. We read the things that they are interested in, and try to reach up to their broader point of view. Turn about is fair play, and men would be equally benefited by learning some of the things that we could teach them, and which they sadly need to know.
